Seifman reappointed Romulus city attorney

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Despite the urgings of two rookie council members not to permanently retain current City Attorney Barry Seifman until after next Monday's recount election process, the Romulus City Council voted 4-2 to keep Seifman at his post.

The appointment decision, if Mayor-elect William Oakley holds on to his 20-vote win, will be one of the first major confrontations he will face with the council in his early days of a new administration.

Most insiders feel that Oakley will name a new city attorney if he is named the city's new mayor next Monday.

County election officials plan to arrive at the City Clerk's office about 8 or 9 a.m. to begin the recount. It is expected that the county election board will convene about 4 p.m. that day and the new mayor will be sworn in a short time later and will take his or her seat at next Monday night's meeting.

Both City Council members William Crova and Mary Collins told their fellow council persons that they saw no reason for haste in naming Seifman, a long term city attorney in the administration of Mayor Beverly McAnally, to another contract with the city.

"We currently are in a limbo state of government and it is not fair to tie a new administration" with such an appointment at this time, said Collins.

Both said it is just common governmental courtesy to allow the new mayor (whether it be Oakley or McAnally) to name the permanent attorney. But Councilman William Wadsworth expressed the need to keep Seifman on the job, because of the on-going injection well controversy.

The third new council member Deborah Romak countered Crova and Collins by saying, "I don't know if we have time to delay" such an appointment.

Mayor pro tem Randolph Gear declared, "McAnally is still our mayor. I don't know also if we have time to educate another city attorney on the well issue."

Crova added, "This is just a common courtesy when a possible change of administrations takes place. I have no problems with keeping him on retainer, but allow the new mayor to make the permanent

Link sought between Romulus, Los Angeles sex assault slayings

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Was Northwest Airlines flight attendant Nancy Ludwig one of Hollywood photographer Charles Rathbun's rape-murder victims back in 1990 in Romulus?

Romulus Police Chief Daryl Poe is seeking to learn the answer in about a week to 10 days, he reported.

Discovering that Rathbun lived in Lansing in the past spurred Romulus detectives to seek results of a DNA analysis of Rathbun's blood, Poe said. Rathbun early last week was charged with the month-old murder of former Los Angeles Raider football cheerleader Linda Sobek.

Because of circumstances surrounding Sobek's death, Romulus police along with other top law enforcement officials in Michigan are searching for possible links to unsolved women's murders.

National media representatives are claiming that law enforcement officials in both California and Michigan feel there is a possibility that Rathbun could be a serial killer.

Ludwig, 41, of Minnetonka, Minn. was found slashed to death in the Romulus Airport Hilton Inn back in February 1990. Police found some tissue they believe came from Ludwig's killer in the second floor hotel room.

Rathbun had a Michigan driver's license from 1981, police said. It reportedly expired earlier this year. Police were told by airport officials back in 1990 that a large white man with blond hair and apparently between the ages of 25 and 35 years of age was seen outside the hotel the night of the Ludwig murder.

Rathbun matches some of those criteria: He is white, has blond hair and now is 38 years of age.

Poe admits local police have no proof that Rathbun was any where near Romulus at the time of the Ludwig killing. That is why they are waiting so anxiously to see if the DNA analysis provides the key genetic mark they have been hunting for the last five years.

The Ludwig case drew national attention because of the slashed throat incident and the fact that the victim's husband, Arthur, offered an $80,000 reward for the solving of his wife's murder.

Ludwig has remained in contact with local police and media representatives, determined that his wife's killing will not remain unsolved.

Lansing police are also investigating whether Rathbun could be involved in one of their unsolved cases in which 19-year-old Rose Larner disappeared back in 1993. The missing woman was last seen in a neighborhood where Rathbun formerly resided, police said.

Tributes offered for Mary Banks

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Tributes for the late Mayor pro tem Mary Ann Banks continued Monday night at the Romulus City Council meeting, three days after her funeral rites and burial.

New Mayor pro tem Randolph Gear praised Mrs. Banks work both in the local schools and as a top council official for many years.

He said, "Family members said she even was writing down the vote returns on election night, until she got too tired to continue."

Councilman William Wadsworth said, "Mary Ann took her sidewalk ordinance to heaven with her and I expect it to be paved by the time I join her there."

Mayor Beverly McAnally said, "Mary Ann was always concerned about her city and that deep concern continued to the very end. I just haven't gotten use to the fact that she has left us yet!"

City Attorney Barry Seifman joined the tributes by saying, "She always was a lady. But she could be tough when she had to be."

Moments later Tony Heimberger, former council candidate, asked permission to have a blue spruce tree planted in Romulus Historical Park in Mrs. Banks' honor this spring. Permission to plant the tree was granted to Romulus Environmentalists Caring About People (RECAP) by the council.

Last Friday morning Romulus residents paid a tearful goodbye to Mrs. Banks, openly called the city's most respected political leader and its No. 1 citizen.

A funeral Mass was celebrated at St. Aloysius Catholic Church, following an all day viewing at Crane Funeral Home on Thursday. Burial occurred later at Romulus Cemetery.

Mrs. Banks, 63, lost her long battle with cancer on Nov. 28 at home.

She had alerted the community in June that health concerns were forcing her to end her political career early and that she would not seek reelection this year.

But despite her terminal illness, Mrs. Banks attended many of the Romulus City Council meetings and continued her work as secretary in the Romulus School District until the last weeks of her life.

Her school boss, Claude Siders, director of the special education unit in Romulus, praised her durability and her dedication to her job.

"She worked many days that the average worker would definitely have taken as sick days. If there was a critical job to be done Mary Ann would even return to the office after a chemotherapy treatment session," Siders said.

Siders also praised her for being a major positive force within his office and was technically "my right hand."

Art McPharlin, her former boss at Hale Creek School, also cited her for quietly assisting needy families, without drawing any attention to herself.

McPharlin added, "I remember about 20 years ago when a mother needed a driver's license. Mary made arrangements for the mother to get free driving lessons and I think she even paid her license fee and made arrangements for her to obtain a low cost vehicle.

"Despite such actions, Mary always was embarrassed if anyone found out about her quiet services to others," McPharlin said. "She even told me she was a little embarrassed when she was praised heavily at a past Greater Romulus Chamber of Commerce Person of the Year dinner," he concluded.

Mayor-elect William Oakley, who grew up in Romulus during the same era as Mrs. Banks, said last week, "She was a pleasure to work with while I was mayor."

The Rev. Michael Malawy, pastor of St. Aloysius Church, eulogized Mrs. Banks' at last Friday's Mass by comparing her life to an envelope bearing a heartfelt message to us from a loved one, we had not seen in a long time.

The envelope may disappear from view, he said, but the message inside remains a valued piece of our lives. An

Mary Ann, as that message, will live in our hearts as long as we remember her interactions in our lives, Malawy said.

"The life of Mary Ann Banks has been stripped of human ailments or weaknesses," Father Malawy said "and if she was here with us today, she would be wiping away our tears."

Father Malawy concluded his eulogy by stating "we will see Mary Ann again, when we join our God in heaven."

Court challenges legality of car forfeitures

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

Wayne County may lose its most effective weapon against prostitution as the U.S. Supreme Court considers the constitutionality of the Operation Save Our Neighborhoods program.

The program allows police officers to seize the vehicles of drivers soliciting sex in the county if there is probable cause. Typically, a John's car is seized "as a public nuisance" if an officer witnesses a cash offer for sex.

Last month, the program resulted in the confiscation of 315 cars. And redemption settlements from car owners added $170,450 to county coffers, said George Ward, chief assistant prosecutor.

"It's a cost effective program that works," he said.

"It's the only program that's effective in dealing with prostitution," said Prosecutor John O'Hair.

But a program that many lawyers detest.

"This is a national disgrace," said attorney Stefan Herpel, who argued against the law before the Supreme Court.

"It's an unconstitutional taking of private property without just compensation," said attorney Gary Cunningham. "It's a violation of the fifth amendment of the U.S. constitution."

If the skeptical questioning by Supreme Court Justices Wednesday is any indication, the program may be undone by Royal Oak resident Tina Bennis' appeal of the county's seizure of her 1977 Pontiac, worth $600. The woman had purchased the car from money mostly earned from babysitting, she said. However, it was jointly owned by Tina and her husband, John.

The car was confiscated as a public nuisance and John was later convicted of gross indecency after police observed the man and a prostitute engaged in a sexual act in the car. Tina Bennis has sued the county for the return of her half interest in the car.

"I didn't know this could happen in America," she said.

The case originally went before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Michael J. Talbot, who ruled that after adding in the confiscation costs, there would not be enough money left to pay Bennis her half.

"I was applying the statute as written," Judge Talbot said. "After hearing enough testimony to be satisfied that prostitution was a continuing nuisance, I ordered an abatement of that nuisance. The remedy was the seizure of the vehicle. The abatement laws on seized public nuisance items don't really care if a jointly owned car is utilized to create a public nuisance."

Talbot said Operation Save Our Neighborhoods has been curtailing prostitution.

"The key is the public's awareness that it's happening ... Johns must know the risks they run."

"It's an appropriate response. We used to punish just the poor prostitutes. Now we punish the Johns, too."

The Michigan Court of Appeals reversed Talbot's decision. Then, the Michigan Supreme Court narrowly reversed the Court of Appeals' ruling, and Bennis appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

If the court rules in Bennis' favor, Operation Save Our Neighborhoods may be crippled by an inability to seize married Johns' cars. The county may lose a growing source of revenue.

Area mother faces conference in death of daughter

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

A Wayne mother accused of child abuse will face a motion conference in Detroit Recorder's Court Dec. 21.

Deepika Bhardwaj, 27, faces second-degree child abuse charges for leaving her one-year-old daughter unattended in the tub. The infant died as a result of the incident.

"The baby drowned in the bathtub," said Wayne police Lt. Mel Drews. "Officers responded to the home on report of a baby not breathing."

The incident took place June 19. Police were not able to conclude their investigation of the incident or pursue an arrest of the defendant until the autopsy report was obtained in October.

When police arrived at Bhardwaj's residence, she informed them she only left her child for a moment to answer the telephone when the tragedy occurred.

"The baby was taken to Annapolis Hospital," said Drews. "Hospital officials were able to get the baby breathing a little. She was then air lifted to the University of Michigan Hospital, but she did not make it."

Wayne police Sgt. Jack Garrett, who is heading the investigation, said once the baby arrived at the Ann Arbor hospital, she was placed on life support, however, the one-year-old didn't have the strength to survive.

Bhardwaj was arraigned Oct. 3 in the 34th District Court, and a $5,000 bond was set.

If she is found guilty of second-degree child abuse charges, she could spend up to four years in prison, according to Drews.

The defendant does have another child, a 2-year-old son.

20-year-old receives probation in assault of Wayne girl

Wayne resident Craig Tomlin accused of sexually assaulting a 15-year-old Wayne girl received four years probation Oct. 20 in Detroit Recorder's Court.

Tomlin, 20, was charged with one count of third-degree criminal sexual conduct. He has a criminal history, according to police.

The defendant was at a house party when the alleged incident occurred Aug. 5.

"There was a lot of drinking of alcohol," said Wayne police Lt. Mel Drews. "A young girl, 15, said she had sexual relations against her will with the defendant."

The parent of the house where the party took place was not home at the time of the incident, according to Drews.

Tomlin was arraigned in the 34th District Court Aug. 8, and a $25,000 cash bond was set.

On Aug. 16, he appeared for an examination before 29th District Court Judge Carolyn Archbold and it was waived.

Sex assault case dismissed

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

The case against a Wayne man charged with three counts of criminal sexual conduct was dismissed in the 29th District Court.

Hilton Anderson was accused of having sexual relations with a 19-year-old Canton woman against her will, according to Wayne police Lt. Mel Drews.

"The victim went to the defendant's home willingly," said Drews. "However, she did not give consent to having sexual relations to him."

Drews said the victim was taken to Detroit against her will. Anderson was arraigned in an out county court, and a $20,000 cash bond was set.

Drews said the defendant has an extensive criminal history.

ROMULUS NEWS DIGEST

Oakley to seek judge's bench

Romulus attorney Brian A. Oakley confirmed rumors Monday that he will throw his hat into the judicial ring next year for the 34th District Court bench currently held by Chief Judge William Szlinis.

Oakley just celebrated his ninth year as an attorney in Romulus. He also is the son of Mayor-elect William Oakley. The election is slated for November 1996.

Senior citizen director retires

Marilyn (Masters) Hoffer has retired from her long term post as Romulus Senior Citizen director.

During the interim, Linda Norman, is filling the job requirements. It is expected a new director would be named sometime after next Monday's recount vote for mayor.

Students stress AIDS prevention

About a dozen members of the Romulus High School's Project STOPP group helped mark worldwide AIDS Awareness Day last Friday at the high school.

The students work year round on pregnancy prevention programs and to make fellow students aware of the AIDS plague spreading around the world.

The students passed out over 800 red ribbons and offered a display that contained a single panel destined for the national AIDS quilt. The panel was a remembrance for a Metro area AIDS victim, who died back in 1991.

The students aided by Ann Shank of the Romulus Adolescent Health Center work in conjunction with the Midwest AIDS Prevention Project.

Romulus homes to be beautified

Three Romulus homes will be honored this season for having the best decorations with a Christmas theme.

The judging of the homes by members of the Romulus Beautification Committee will take place from 6 to 9 p.m. Dec. 13-16.

Entries or nominations to be considered for such awards must be received by 5 p.m. Dec. 12. Entries should contain the families name, address, phone number and major cross streets.

They should be sent to Julie Wojtylko, chairperson of the Beautification Committee, 11111 Wayne Road, Romulus, 48174 or may be done over the phone by calling 1-313-942-7537.

The top prize is $50. Second and third prize awards will be $25 and $10 each.

Rivers to host Romulus visit

Congresswoman Lynn Rivers will meet with Romulus residents from 1 to 2 p.m. on Dec. 16 at the Romulus High School Auditorium.

Rivers will speak on "Everything You Want to Know About the U.S. Budget!" A question and answer period will follow.

Collins continued, "The vote we are taking tonight has nothing to do with Seifman's past actions on our behalf."

She added all council members are pleased with the the city's victories in court and before the Zoning Board of Appeals in the deep well matter.

Voting to keep Seifman were Wadsworth, Gear, Romak and Councilman Michael Prybyla.

Opposed to the appointment were Crova and Collins. Councilman Jimmie Raspberry still was hospitalized following his knee surgery.

'Please don't re-invent 1982'

With the 1995 election recount slated in four days, Romulus residents are hoping that the next mayor (either William Oakley or incumbent Beverly McAnally) can jump start the flagging spirits of city employees.

Because of the long delay between the election (Nov. 7) and recount day (Dec. 11), a perceived feeling of lethargy has been reported by local citizens who returned after visiting Romulus City Hall.

While few feel that McAnally should not have asked for a recount with such a tight vote finish, they strongly wish that Wayne County could have speeded up the process.

No matter who ultimately wins on Monday (since numerous department heads in the McAnally administration have already left) residents are wondering if an energetic take-off can begin so close to the Christmas holidays.

Oakley admitted before the election that two-year mayoral terms limit the potential quality of department heads the city can attract. He openly asked "what professional would be willing to give up his or her current career outside government for only a possible two-year stint inside government?"

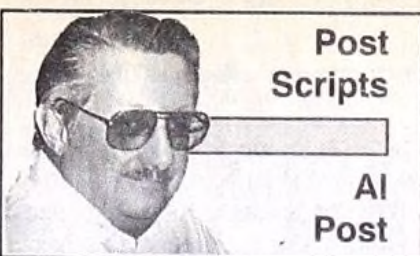

In addition, he stated prior to election day, "I've always tried to give priority to Romulus residents for such positions, but that doesn't always work out when you try to match quality job applications."

Because of the cautious and concerned attitude Oakley presents publicly, it is not known widely, who he would select for various department heads.

If his 20-vote margin holds up, it is expected that Oakley would first name his inner office staff (administrative assistants and secretaries).

Oakley vows it will take probably days for him to name key leaders in his new administration, with the time period being aggravated by two week notices some will have to give to current employers and the Christmas holiday period itself.

The biggest concern heard about town is "We hope Oakley doesn't try to re-invent 1981-82!" That was the time period, he last served as mayor and most know that Oakley has not kept his ear totally in tune with Romulus governmental happenings in the past decade or more.

1 killed, hurt in car-bus crash

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A 28-year-old Allen Park resident is fighting for his life today, following a car-school bus accident that claimed the life of his Melvindale friend last Friday morning in Romulus.

The injured passenger has been identified as George Liagnos. He was initially taken to Annapolis Hospital in Wayne and then airlifted to University Hospital in Ann Arbor, where he is listed in critical condition.

The driver killed at the scene of the Wayne Road-I-94 accident was identified as Jason Matthew Simmons, 20, of Melvindale.

Romulus Traffic Officer Lenn White reported Mr. Simmons' 1992 Chevrolet Camaro was struck by a school bus, as it pulled out of the I-94 ramp. There were no students on the bus at the time of the mishap.

White said, "Preliminary investigation indicates that Mr. Simmons vehicle was traveling at a high rate of speed on west-bound I-94, just prior to the accident."

It was reported that the car occupants were traveling at high speeds because they were late for work.

White added, "upon pulling up to the stop sign at the end of the exit ramp, (the driver apparently) did not observe the school bus and pulled into its path."

White said both men were indeed wearing seat belts at the time of the accident. An earlier police report stated they were not wearing such devices.

Any witnesses to the accident are urged to call White at 941-8718 or 941-6882.

Romulus Goodfellows are ready to assist

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus Goodfellows found many warm hearts and deep pockets last Friday and Saturday, as they conducted their annual drive to raise $7,000 in funds for needy families this holiday season.

A group of seven members of the National Honor Society at Romulus High School joined about two dozen fire department members in passing out their Goodfellows Newspapers at local street corners and collecting donations for area children and senior citizens.

Other Goodfellows volunteers included a Department of Public Works employee, a policeman, a reserve officer and a Metro Mobile Home Park manager.

In addition, a Goodfellows spokeswoman said, we have been promised various gifts (including toys, food and clothing) from various companies including QVS, Adistra Corp., United Brass Corp., Lear Seating Plant 1 and the Woodbridge firm.

The Goodfellows plan to distribute the donated Christmas gifts to local families a few days before Christmas.

Restaurant owner held on 'pot' charge

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The co-owner of the Cozy Corner Restaurant in Romulus was arrested last week and charged with two counts of selling marijuana.

Bryant Frost, 30, of Romulus, was first spotted making the drug sales outside the store on Goddard Road, but then ran into the store through his customers with police in pursuit, Lt. David Early of the Special Investigations team, said Friday. He was arrested in the back room of the store.

Early said his investigative team has been probing Frost's activities for a period of time following the receipt of numerous citizen tips concerning alleged marijuana sales in and around his restaurant.

The SI unit later also raided the restaurant and home owned by Frost and his wife, Mary Ann Csaszar, where they found and confiscated scales and small amounts of marijuana from the home, Early said.

Frost was arraigned on Nov. 29 in the 34th District Court and was released on $5,000 bail (10 percent).

Early said the restaurant was closed after the raid last Tuesday and all day Wednesday. It reopened last Thursday, he said.

Principal to hit roof over MEAP scores

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Merriman Elementary School Principal Andrea Williams has agreed to climb to the school's roof later this week to celebrate her fourth grade students major jump in math and reading Michigan Education Assessment Program (MEAP) scores this year.

Williams reported Tuesday morning that the latest MEAP scores were only received late Monday afternoon, but major district-wide score increases were noted.

Superintendent Dr. William Bedell was out of town when the scores were delivered. Assistant Superintendent Joel Carr said new Curriculum Director Thomas Dolan and others would be analyzing the scores in the next day or two in preparation of a media report to the public.

Williams said the math scores in the 4th grade jumped from 56.5 in 1994 to 70.8 this year. The reading scores rose from a dismal 15.2 in 1994 to a more creditable 52.1 this year. Science tests will be taken later, she said.

"I offered to do something unique if the students scored extra high on the tests this year," Williams said, "but I refused to kiss a pig. We settled on my climbing to the roof to signify the new heights the kids had achieved."

She credited total staff involvement in identifying student educational needs and developing strategies to combat any deficiencies, as some of the reasons for the sharp improvements.

'Boarding house' session due Dec. 27

A study session on possible boarding-home style houses opening in Romulus will be conducted at 6 p.m. Dec. 27 in the Romulus City Council chambers.

A private citizen, Judy Frederick, called the council's attention to new homes opening on Tyler Road that are apparently being occupied by three residents with one or more possibly being in wheelchairs.

Frederick said the homes are apparently under the control of Community Living Services of Wayne.

Lisa Chapman, CLS housing specialist, wrote a letter to Willie B. Watson, assistant director of the city's building, safety and engineering department, informing him that the homes are "not licensed group homes."

The first home in question, 37941 Tyler Road, is being "leased from a private lessor by three individuals, who live there," Chapman told Watson.

She also wrote, "It is our intention to fully comply with all proper procedures regarding building codes, permits, inspections and the like."

City Councilwoman Mary Collins, after listening to Frederick, said her "gut feeling is these style homes are being rented like boarding houses."

A letter from Assistant City Attorney Stuart Trager said some initial investigations have been started on these housing units. But Trager said he has received information stating "the federal court has declared the state...distance and concentration requirements or restriction of adult foster care facilities are unconstitutional and illegal."

CHAPTER 11

An Ordinance of the City of Romulus Providing That the Code of Ordinances be Amended by Adding a New Section to be Known as Chapter 11, An Ordinance to Protect the City of Romulus from Any and All Environmental Potential Contaminants, Recycling, Storage and Disposal and for Such to Supplement Existing State, Wayne County and Federal Laws.

THE CITY OF ROMULUS ORDAINS:

Section 1: Short Title

This ordinance shall be known and cited as the Environmental Health Ordinance.

Section 2: Purpose and Intent

Sec. 11-1. Definitions.

The following words, terms and phrases, when used in this chapter, shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

Certificate of disposal means a form provided by the environmental protection board used to certify that a hazardous waste has been treated or disposed of, pursuant to the requirements of this chapter.

Disposal means the incineration, storage, treatment, recycling or the discharge, deposit, injection, dumping, spilling, leaking, or placing of a hazardous/ non-hazardous waste into or on land or water or sewer systems in a manner that the hazardous/non-hazardous waste or a constituent of the hazardous/non-hazardous waste enters the environment, is emitted into the air, or is discharged into water, including groundwater.

Disposal facility means the location, equipment, or facility where hazardous/non-hazardous wastes are disposed of, recycled or stored including a disposal facility associated with, within, or adjacent to facilities generating the waste.

Environmental protection board means the board created by this chapter to identify, study, and regulate environmental waste disposal, which board shall consist of the chairman and be five members, one of which shall act as Chairman, appointed by the City Council for three year terms, which shall act in this instance as an administrative board of first resort.

Failure mode assessment means an analysis of the potential major methods by which safe handling of hazardous/non-hazardous wastes may fail at a disposal facility.

Hazardous material means and shall be determined by standards set or approved by the Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Natural Resources, or the environmental protection board.

Waste shall mean items hazardous/non-hazardous like garbage, refuse, excrement, mud, and sludge, discarded materials in solid, liquid or gas state or such other items seeking disposal.

Hazardous/non-hazardous material management means the systematic control of the collection, source separation, storage, transportation, treatment, recovery, recycling, and disposal of hazardous/nonhazardous materials.

Manifest means the form provided by the environmental protection board that is used for identifying the quantity, composition, origin, routing, and destination of hazardous/non-hazardous disposal materials during its transportation from the point of generation to the point of disposal, treatment, or storage.

Manifest system means the system provided by the environmental protection board that is used for identifying the quantity, composition, origin, routing, and destination of hazardous/non-hazardous materials during its transportation from the point of generation to the point of disposal, treatment, or storage.

On site means on the same or geographically contiguous property. Two (2) or more pieces of property which are geographically contiguous and are divided by a public or private right-of-way are considered a single site.

Operator means the person operating a disposal facility with approval of the Environmental Board whether by contract or license.

Person means an individual, sole proprietorship, partnership, association, or corporation; the state, an agency or department of the state, or a municipality or county of the state.

Plan means the hazardous non-hazardous material management plans submitted by applicant under this chapter.

Rule means a rule promulgated by the environmental protection board, pursuant to Act No. 306 of the Public Acts of Michigan of 1969 (MCL 24.201 et seq., MSA 3.560(101) et seq.)

Treatment means a method, technique, or process, including neutralization, that is designed to change the physical, chemical, or biological character or composition of hazardous wastes, so as to neutralize the wastes or render the wastes non-hazardous, safer for transportation, amenable to recovery or storage, or reduce in volume.

Storage means the containment of hazardous/non-hazardous wastes awaiting disposal or recycling and not merely ancillary to manufacturing production of the facility.

Sec. 11-2. Disposal, storage, or recycling of hazardous/non-hazardous waste.

A person shall not dispose, store, or recycle hazardous/non-hazardous material in the city without complying with the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 11-3. Methods of hazardous/non-hazardous material management.

The environmental protection board, in the conduct of its duties as prescribed under this chapter, shall assist in encouraging, developing and implementing methods of hazardous/non-hazardous material management that are environmentally sound, that maximize the utilization of valuable resources, and that encourages resource conservation, including source separation and waste reduction and that are consistent with the plan provided pursuant to this chapter. (Ord. of 5-11-82(2) 1800-300)

Sec. 11-4. Conflicting provisions.

The provisions of this chapter shall be read, wherever possible, as compatible with all existing state and federal law. Whether a conflict does exist, the meaning should be given to the terms of this chapter that will best supplement and aid in the furtherance of these acts. (Ord. of 5-11-82 1800-400)

Sec. 11-5. Objectives, procedures of environmental protection board.

The environmental protection board shall be established in order to:

- (1) Be the first body in the City to review any matter where disposal, recycling and/or storage of waste is contemplated and recommend or not recommend as an advisory body.
- (2) Review all site plans where disposal of hazardous/non-hazardous materials are in any way involved to determine if the proposed action complies with all applicable environmental regulations;
- (3) Co-ordinate the development of a municipal environmental plan;
- (4) Conduct hearings on the feasibility of proposed actions with regard to environmental standards;
- (5) Ensure compliances with Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Agency requirements and the protection of neighboring land uses;
- (6) Promulgate standards and rules;
- (7) Identify sensitive areas within the city such as groundwater, proximity of other uses, wind direction, and other significant environmental factors;
- (8) Coordinate with the city police, fire, ambulance, and other emergency facilities;
- (9) Review emergency procedures
- (10) Restrict dangerous practices,
- (11) Review qualifications of person performing environmentally sensitive functions;
- (12) Notify local, state, or federal boards, commissions, and agencies that have responsibility for air, land, or water management, describing the proposed action or use;
- (13) Coordinate and review all permits necessary from departments and agencies to construct a proposed facility and recommend to City Council;
- (14) Deliberate on the risk and impact of proposal facilities on the environment and recommend alternatives by which the impact can be reduced;
- (15) Determine the impact on the municipality of proposed facilities in terms of health, safety, cost and consistency thereof with local planning and existing development and recommend to City Council;
- (16) Assess the probable environmental impact including the specification of the predictable adverse effects on:
  - a. The natural environment and ecology;
  - b. Public health and safety;
  - c. Scenic, historic, cultural, and recreational value;
  - d. Water, air quality and wildlife.
- (17) Evaluate the measures to mitigate adverse effects. (Ord. of 511-82(2), 1800-500)

Sec. 11-6. Hazardous/non-hazardous material disposal site plan review.

- (a) All site plans within the city, prior to being submitted to the planning commission for site plan review, shall be screened by the department of buildings and safety for storage, recycling, and disposing of hazardous/non-hazardous materials Whenever a hazardous/non-hazardous substance is to stored, treated or disposed from of a site at which a approval must be sought, applications shall be submitted to the environmental protection board for approval before site plan review is commenced. Application shall be on a form provided by the board and submitted to its secretary. Such approval shall be merely advisory and City Council must approve same. If the board does not approve, the applicant may appeal to City Council.
- (b) The board shall receive the application and act thereon in the following manner within ninety (90) days of receipt unless extended for an additional 90 days:
  - (1) Review all involved site plans.
  - (2) Within the time limit prescribed, the board shall:
    - a. Set the matter down for a public hearing following same it may;
  - i. Notify the applicant by first class mail that it has approved the plan; or
  - ii. Notify applicant of intent to deny approval specifically stating the reasons for denial.
- (3) Public Hearing:
  - a. At the public hearing, any party shall be entitled to appear and present any evidence with or without the assistance of counsel.
  - b. At the conclusion of the hearing, the board shall issue a written finding of fact.
  - c. If the board has reasonable grounds to doubt the solvency of an applicant's ability to complete a project, or implement the environmental protection measures called for, it may require that the applicant post a cash or surety bond in an amount not to exceed one and one-fourth (1 1/4) of the expected cost of the proposed project or potential damages.
  - d. Any decision of the board rejecting can be appealed to the city council, any approval by the board shall be advisory only to the City Council which must approve same.

Sec. 11-7. Hazardous/non-hazardous waste management plan.

Any person seeking to have a disposal, storage or recycling facility must first submit to this board a hazardous/non-hazardous material management plans as follows:

- (a) Preparation, inclusions, studies, public hearings, summary, amendments, recommendations. The environmental protection board shall review a hazardous/non-hazardous materials management plan submitted by applicant. The plan shall:
  - (1) Provide for a reasonable geographic distribution of disposal facilities to meet existing and future needs.
  - (2) Be based upon location of materials or uses, health and safety, economics of transportation, type of waste, and existing disposal facilities.
  - (3) The board may retain one (1) or more qualified experts, to be paid by the applicant, to review studies as considered necessary for the review of the plan. Those studies shall include:
    - a. An inventory and evaluation of the sources of hazardous/non-hazardous waste generation within the state, including the types

- b. An inventory and evaluation of current hazardous/non-hazardous material management practices and costs, including storage treatment and disposal within this state and as it relates to Southeastern Michigan and the City of Romulus.
- c. A projection or determination of future hazardous/non-hazardous material management needs based on an evaluation of existing capacities, treatment, or disposal capabilities, manufacturing activity, limitation and constraints. Projection of needs shall consider the types and sizes of disposal, treatment and storage facilities, general locations within the city and an identified need for such facilities.
- d. An investigation and analysis of methods, incentives, or technologies for source reduction, reuse, recycling, or recovery of potentially hazardous/non-hazardous wastes and a strategy for encouraging the utilization or reduction of hazardous/non-hazardous materials.
- e. An estimate of the public and private costs of disposing of hazardous/non-hazardous materials.
- f. An investigation and analysis of alternative methods for treatment and disposal of hazardous/non-hazardous materials.

Sec. 11-8. Construction permits; license.

A person shall not engage in an environmentally sensitive project where storing, recycling or disposing of hazardous/non-hazardous materials without a construction permit from the building official. The building official may not issue permits and licenses under this chapter for existing or proposed facilities and other authorized operations included in this chapter before the project is approved by this board, the Planning Commission has reviewed and made its recommendation and City Council approved the application. (Ord. of 5-11-82(2), 1800-1000)

Sec. 11-9. Site approval; license; fee.

- (a) A person shall not conduct, manage, maintain or operate a disposal facility handling hazardous/non-hazardous materials without an operating license from the city council.
- (b) The application for an operating license shall contain the name and residence of the applicant, the location of the proposed or existing disposal facility, and other information considered necessary by the building official, including proof of financial capability, The application shall be accompanied by a fee as set by resolution from time to time by City Council. The license fees shall be deposited in the general fund of the city.
  - (1) In addition to the license fee, the environmental protection board may require that the applicant provide technical data or studies, as it shall deem essential in making a determination as to the necessity or validity of the applicant's proposals.
  - (2) There shall be a charge per volume brought to the approved site, which shall be specifically earmarked for environmental purposes as set forth by resolution from time to time by City Council.
- (c) The applicant shall also submit to the building official a certification under the seal of a registered professional engineer verifying that the construction of the disposal, storage and recycling facility has proceeded according to the plans approved by the department of buildings and safety and, if applicable, the approved construction permit. The building official shall require additional certification periodically during the operation, and not less than annual recertification or to verify proper closure of the site. The building official shall require from those disposal, storage and recycling facilities that are permitted to operate certification of the disposal facilities' capability of disposing of hazardous/non-hazardous wastes in compliance with this chapter. Upon final approval by City Council and before construction, the proposed operator of a disposal facility shall post an environmental protection bond in an amount as set by City Council resolution from time to time.

Section 3. Repeal of Conflicting Provisions.

All resolutions, ordinances or parts thereof in conflict with provisions of this ordinance are to the extent of such conflict, hereby repealed.

Section 4. Penalty.

Anyone found guilty of violating this Section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not to exceed Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) or by imprisonment not to exceed ninety (90) days, or both, in the discretion of this court.

Section 5: Severability

Should any clause, sentence, paragraph, sub-section or section of this Article be declared void or otherwise invalid, for any reason, by any court of competent jurisdiction, such declaration shall not affect any portion of this Article other than the part specifically declared to be void.

Section 8: Effective Date

This ordinance shall become effective immediately upon publication in the official newspaper.

I, Linda R. Choate, CMC, Clerk for the City of Romulus, Michigan do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an ordinance duly adopted by the Romulus City Council at its regular meeting held on the 14th. day of November, 1995.

CITY OF ROMULUS

APPENDIX A - ZONING

AMENDMENT 1.133

An Ordinance To Amend the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Romulus Code of Ordinance by Revising Article XX, Sections 20.01 and 20.03, Industrial Transportation District 2.

THE CITY OF ROMULUS ORDAINS:

Section 1.
SHORT TITLE: This Ordinance shall be known and cited as the Amended Zoning Ordinance.

Section 2. Section 20.01 of the Romulus Code of Ordinance is hereby repealed and a new Section 20.01 is adopted to read as follows:

Section 20.01 Statement of Purpose.
In the MT-2 District, the intent is to permit certain uses and industries which are of a heavy manufacturing character. Further, the intent is to permit, with certain conditions, larger-scale trucking operations involving interstate and intrastate motor carriers whose activities are most suitably placed in strategic locations close to complementary uses and other potentially high volume truck traffic areas and in locations which are efficiently coordinated with the City's planned street and thoroughfare system. It is also the intent to permit, with certain conditions, areas for the transfer, treatment, storage, disposal or recycling of trash, refuse and other liquid or solid wastes.

Section 3.
Section 20.03 is hereby repealed and a new Section 20.03 is adopted to read as follows:

Section 20.03. Special Approval Land Uses.
B. Transfer stations, treatment, storage or disposal facilities and recycling stations for refuse, garbage, debris, paper, cardboard, wood, liquids, semi-solids, contained gaseous waste material, or other non-hazardous solid or liquid waste. The following requirements apply to such uses, except where more stringent requirements exist under applicable State or Federal laws, or except where there is conflict with such laws.

1. Such uses shall be located on a site of not less than ten (10) acres. All truck access to and from the site shall be upon a major or secondary thoroughfare which has been constructed to Class A road standards.
2. Such site shall (except for frontage on a public street) abut only land located within a C-2, C-3, M-1, M-2 or MT-2 zoning district.
3. No structures, parking areas or facilities shall be located within forty (40) feet of the front property line. No portion of any structure, facility, access drive or parking area shall be located within one hundred (100) feet of any property used for residential purposes.
4. There shall be provided, except at entrances and exits, a six (6) foot decorative wall, constructed to the standards shown in Section 4.16, set back forty (40) feet from the property line. The Planning Commission and Council may require a six (6) foot wall where there is a question of adequate screening or buffering. Where the principal building is constructed at the forty (40) foot setback line, and where the front of such building is constructed of a decorative brick compatible with the wall, then the decorative wall shall not be required along that portion of the front yard enclosed by the building. A landscaped earthen berm shall also be provided within forty (40) feet of the front property line to shield or buffer the gate or entrance to the yard from the street.
5. Except for the required front yard, all developed areas of the site shall be enclosed by a six (6) foot pressure-treated wood fence or masonry wall.
6. All areas adjacent to the transfer point, such as the tipping floor, the turning, standing, parking and storage areas, shall be paved with concrete. Adequate standing and parking facilities shall be provided on the site so that no packers or other collection vehicles, at any time, stands on a public right-of-way awaiting entrance to the site. The standing and parking facilities shall be paved with sealed concrete. Areas subject to leakage or wash down areas shall have a secondary containment system.
7. Emission of smoke, dirt, dust and fly ash shall be controlled through the use of electrostatic precipitators or other equipment of equal or better efficiency, which shall meet all applicable Federal, State and local air pollution control regulations.
8. The transfer facility and the adjacent area shall be kept clean and free of litter.
9. All salvage and transfer operations shall be conducted totally within an enclosed building.
10. The operation of the recycling center shall be consistent with all applicable performance standards of the Zoning Ordinance.
11. If refuse is to remain at the transfer facility beyond the working day, such material shall be stored in a leak-proof, fly and rodent resistant structure or container located within the building. No overflow from containers shall be permitted.

12. Equipment, adequate in size and quantity and in an operational condition, shall be available at all times. If, for any reason, the transfer facility is rendered inoperable for more than twenty-four (24) hours or there is a shut-down of the plant, an alternate plan or method of disposal shall be available to handle the refuse. These plans must be approved as part of the Special Land Use Approval process.

13. No refuse shall be burned at the transfer facility. Arrangements shall be made for adequate fire protection and extinguishing of accidental fires. Refuse which is burning, or at a temperature which is likely to cause a fire, or is of highly flammable or explosive nature, shall not be accepted at the transfer facility.

14. The proposed plan of operation shall be approved by the Wayne County Health Department and other applicable agencies prior to the issuance of a certificate of compliance.

15. All roads on the premises shall be paved with concrete or a bituminous hard surface.

C. Recycling, incineration, treatment, storage or disposal of hazardous waste, including hazardous or non-hazardous deep well injection. The following requirements apply to such uses, except where more stringent requirements exist under applicable State or Federal laws, or except where there is conflict with such laws.

1. Such use shall be located on a site of not less than thirty (30) acres. All truck access to and from the site shall be upon a major or secondary thoroughfare which has been constructed to Class A road standards.
2. To ensure that the reasonable use of neighboring properties is not adversely affected and to reduce the potential for adverse health, odor or other environmental impacts, the property lines encompassing the proposed use shall only abut industrially zoned land and, in addition, the following separation distances shall be observed:
  - a. Two thousand six hundred forty (2,640) feet from the property lines of any residentially-zoned district, major medical facility, nursing home, senior housing project, or any facility which is designed for use by the physically infirm, or where large numbers of people congregate, such as senior recreation centers, parks or playgrounds, public meeting halls, churches, schools and libraries.
  - b. Six hundred sixty (660) feet from the property lines of any existing residential structure or any RC, C-1, C-2, C-3, O-1, or BT zoning district.Additionally, the City shall determine that the proposed use shall not adversely affect nonconforming residential uses and that adequate separation is provided from existing industrial uses that may be particularly sensitive, such as food, beverage or drug processing plants.

The separation distances specified above may be reduced by not more than fifty (50) percent upon a finding by the Planning Commission and City Council that the reduced isolation distances are sufficient to prevent any occurrence of health or obnoxious odor problems or pollution of land, water courses or drainage systems.

3. In order to fully assess all implications and effects of the project, a community impact statement shall be prepared by the petitioner and submitted for review at the public hearing and later approval by the City. This report must describe at least the following factors:

- significant environmental effects;
- unavoidable environmental effects;
- mitigation measures;
- project alternatives;
- significant irreversible environmental changes;
- impacts on future growth.

Based on this study of others, the City shall assure itself that the environmental impacts have been identified; adverse impacts have been eliminated or there are no feasible alternatives; adequate conditions and safeguards will be implemented; and that the site and facility will not adversely affect the quality of the City's human and/or physical environment.

4. Prior to the Planning Commission's recommendation to City Council, the proposal shall be submitted to the City of Romulus Environmental Protection Board in accordance with Section 11 of the City's Code of Ordinances. Studies and materials reviewed by the Commission shall be submitted to this Board.

5. The site shall be screened from view from any residential use or public street by at least a fifty (50) foot wide greenbelt and berm planted with vegetation at a sufficient height and opacity to screen at least ninety (90) percent of the facility during the summer months and seventy (70) percent during the winter months. Screening along the perimeter of the entire site shall be required, as determined by the Planning Commission, in order to minimize any adverse effect on adjacent properties. At the discretion of the Planning Commission, an obscuring wall of poured concrete with a brick-like texture, brick, or decorative, pressure-treated wood may be constructed in place of the greenbelt, berm and screening noted above.

6. All processing, treatment, recycling, transfer, unloading, and storage shall be within a completely enclosed building or in approved storage tanks. The plant shall be constructed so as to enclose all equipment which generate significant levels of noise. All aggregate and bulk materials shall be stored in the building or in concrete bunkers or silos. The bunkers or silos shall be equipped to control fugitive dust and particles. The plan shall indicate that all motor vehicles, which have contained or been in contact with hazardous waste, recycled materials or sludge, shall be washed clean prior to leaving the site. The method and area for washing shall be specified on the site plan.

The facility shall be equipped with an approved waste water recycling system to avoid contaminated water or liquids from being discharged to ground water, surface water or storm sewers. This shall include a wash-out, wash-down, and secondary containment system to recover and recycle impurities and other by-products processed from trucks, machinery products, supplies or waste. All surface areas involved in the loading, unloading, transfer or storage shall be constructed in such a manner as to prevent the runoff of any hazardous material to unpaved areas or non-designated drainage facilities. Such potential waste shall be collected with a secondary containment system and processed or disposed of according to State or Federal regulations.

7. All driveways, surface roads and storage areas on the premises shall be paved with concrete or deep strength asphalt. Deceleration lanes shall be provided in accordance with the minimum of the City of Romulus' Major Industrial Driveway Engineering Standards. Acceleration or passing lanes may be required, based upon City engineering determination. The Planning Commission shall take into consideration vehicular turning movements in relation to traffic flow, proximity of curb cuts and intersections.

8. All areas of the site which are not paved for parking, driveways, loading or operation shall be landscaped and maintained in accordance with Section 4.33 of this Ordinance. This shall include a plan for the permanent maintenance of all required earthen berms, plantings, lawns and landscaping.

9. The facility and all of its operations shall strictly comply with all of the performance standards set forth in Sections 17.05 and 17.06, as well as all applicable Federal, State, County and local statutes, regulations, rules, orders and ordinances. Systems shall be employed to contain and process all discharged materials from the facility in an environmentally sound manner.

10. Plans and/or reports shall be filed with the City Fire Department, indicating the types of materials and where they are located on the site.

11. All approvals of the City shall be conditioned and subject to the applicant securing all required approvals and permits, as defined by local, County, State and Federal statutes and regulations.

12. The City Council shall establish fees to pay its costs of administration and inspections of the site and facility to ensure that the development is being operated in compliance with the conditions of the special approval.

Section 4.
CONFLICTING PROVISIONS REPEALED: Should any section, clause or provision of this ordinance be declared by the Court to be invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of this ordinance as a whole or any part thereof, other than the part so declared to be invalid.

Section 5.
EFFECTIVE DATE: This ordinance shall become effective immediately upon publication in the official newspaper of general circulation.

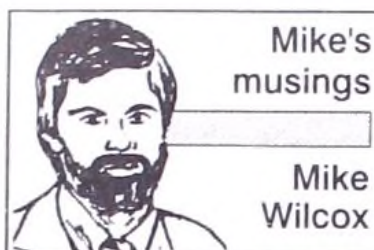

I, Linda R. Choate, CMC, Clerk for the City of Romulus, Michigan do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an ordinance duly adopted by the Romulus City Council at its regular meeting held on the 14th day of November, 1995.

Linda R. Choate, CMC, Clerk
City of Romulus, Michigan

ATTEST:
Beverly McAnally, Mayor
INTRODUCED: June 26, 1995
ADOPTED: November 14, 1995
PUBLISHED: December 7, 1995

The holiday season seems to bring out the best in many of us. This newspaper, for the past three years has pooled the resources of several of its customers together to help make Christmas merry for as many families as possible. We would like to publicly acknowledge two businesses that have quietly helped us with this program.

Mike's musings

Mike Wilcox

D & D Bikes of Westland has been a major contributor to our Christmas Wish program since its inception. Each year they take a dozen or more bikes to disadvantaged families that request them. All we do is give them a list and they, along with Santa Claus, deliver the bikes to each of the homes. It's an incredibly warm scene when the folks at D & D walk up to the door with a brand new bike in tow.

Another business that really gets into the spirit of Christmas is Tyme Auto. This year they intend to take 10 families from our list of over 250 and do everything humanly possible to assure a merry Christmas for the families. Tyme goes above and beyond the present for the kids or food for the pantry. They make sure these families have the total Christmas experience.

A Canton couple deserves special mention for the time they spend collecting food, clothing and toys for the needy. Matt and Carol Adams spend every 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. and all day Saturday and Sunday collecting these items at the Canton Kmart. Their familiar faces can be seen next to the big semi-trailer in the parking lot until Dec. 22. How many of us would devote a whole month of our time to such a project? This is a major sacrifice and Matt and Carol ought to be applauded for their efforts.

Although this business establishment gets a lot of good publicity for their acts of kindness, Leon's Restaurant gave away 8,000 free meals this past Thanksgiving. That's not a typo. We're not talking, eight, 80, or even 800. Sam Leon cooked and served 8,000 free Thanksgiving dinners with all the trimmings at his three area restaurants. If a typical dinner costs $10, that means Leon spent $80,000 that day feeding customers.

That's not the whole of it. Leon has convinced area VIPs like Mayor Robert Thomas of Westland, Mayor Mike Guido of Dearborn and State Senator George Hart to take time out of their Thanksgiving celebrations to help serve the turkey dinners. In addition, employees devote their time free of charge.

All those involved in this very special project deserve a great deal of credit. And to Sam Leon, I must say, thanks for showing us all the true meaning of Christmas.

Gift of reading given to young, old alike

Participating in programs to encourage reading is a logical project for a newspaper. After all, without readers, there is no future for our product.

Still, the more we become involved with the programs of the Inkster Literacy Council, the more excited and supportive we are about their work.

For the third year, we are co-sponsoring a drive to provide new books for some 400 Inkster Head Start pupils so that each youngster will have "the gift of reading" during the holidays.

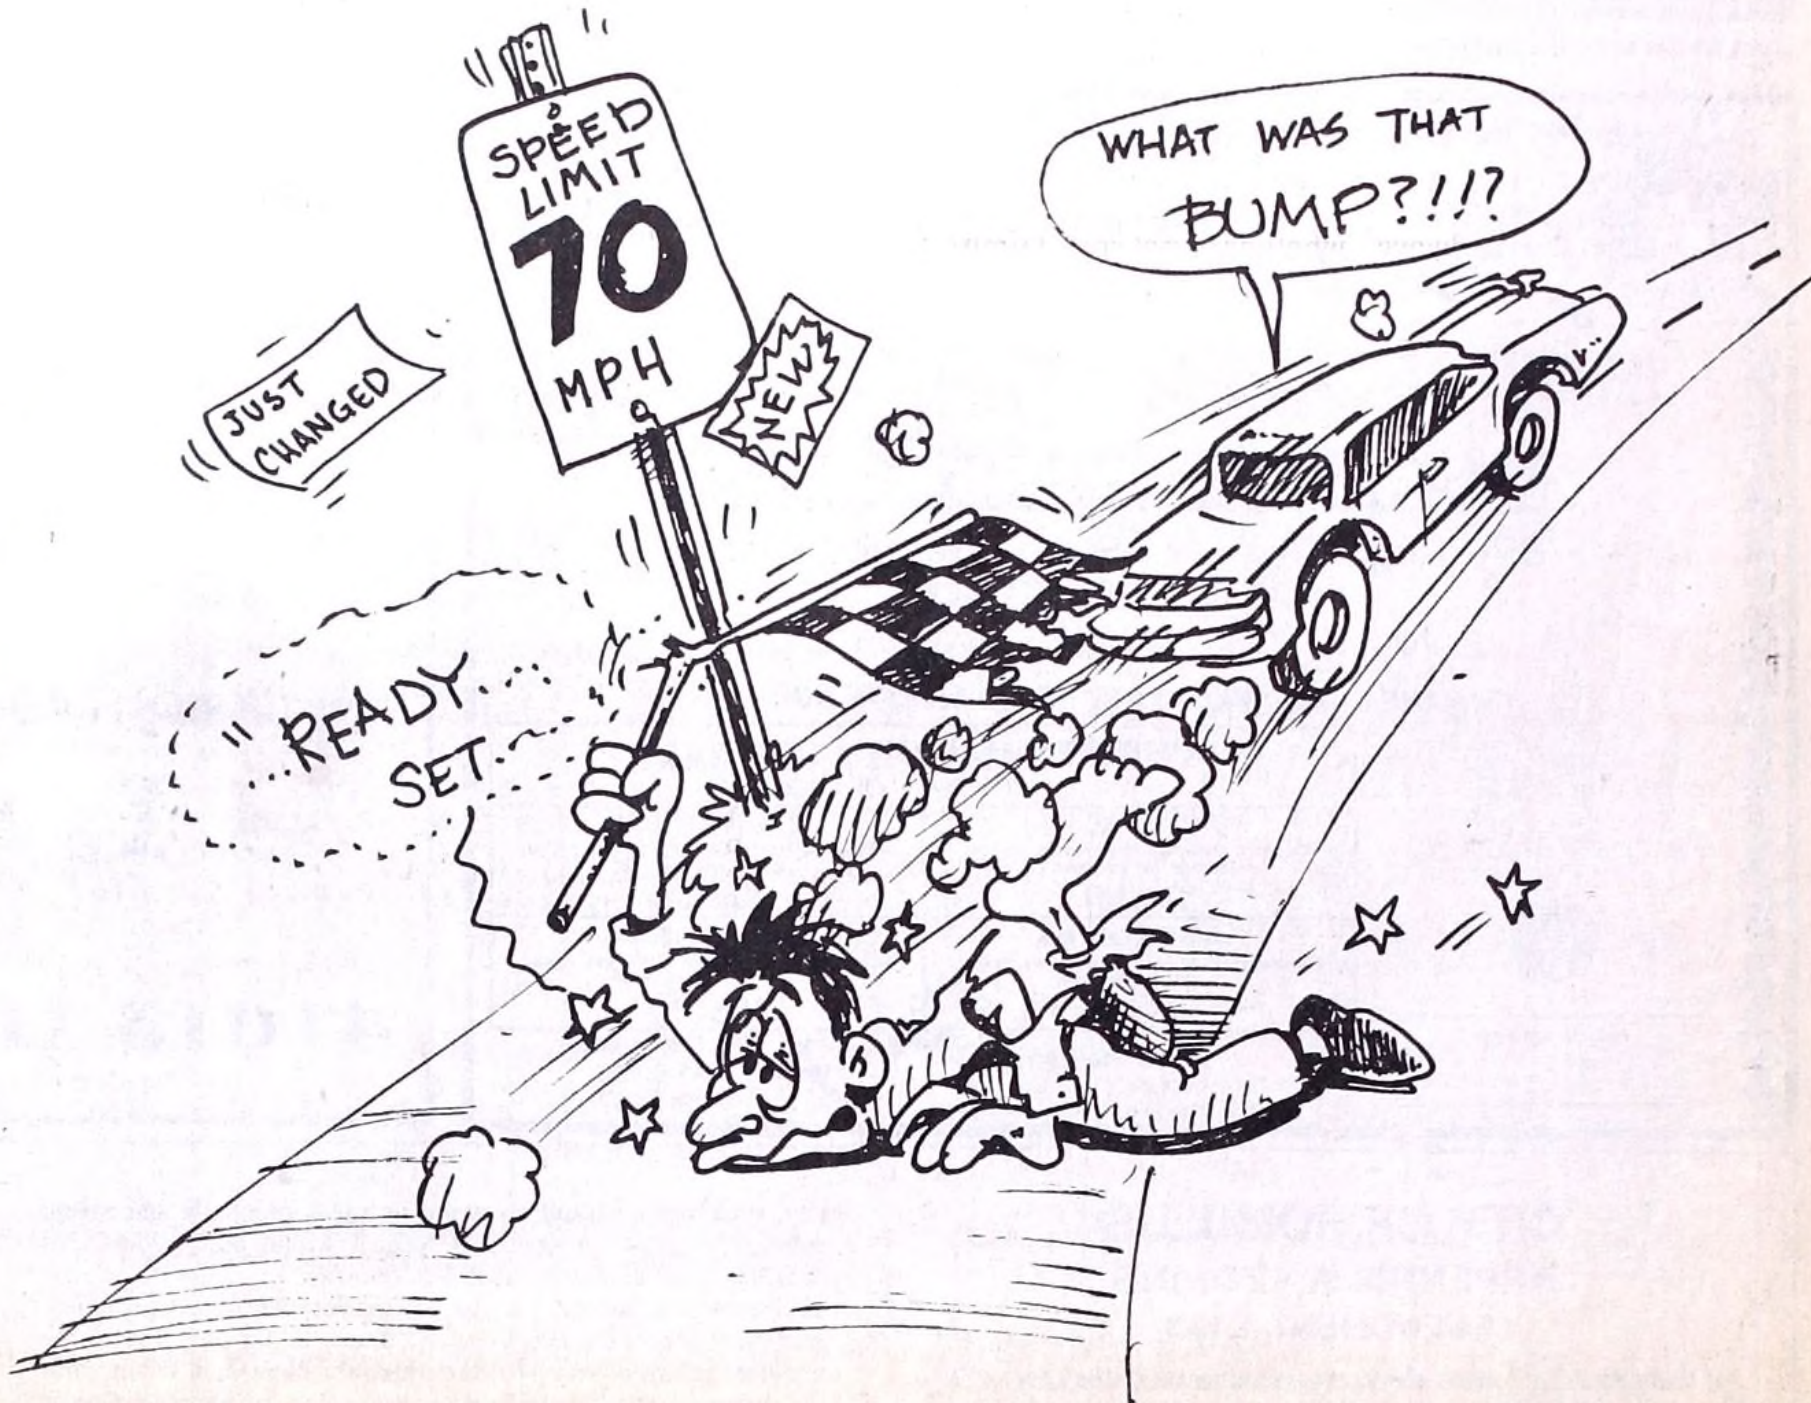

Our readers and staff members have donated books for the drive, and we have also had some unexpected donations.

First, the First Congregational Church in Wayne donated several boxes of used books, which we will put on the shelves of the Head Start rooms to be shared by all of the pupils.

Next, State Rep. Thomas Kelly donated two boxes of miscellaneous new books, which will be given to adults in the Inkster Literacy Council-sponsored tutoring program.

For most of us, the gift of a book is not a special event, but for these individuals, a book is a treasure which opens new worlds for them. For the four-year-olds, the magic of reading is encouraged and nurtured with the gift of a book, and for adults who did not have the opportunity to learn to read in their younger years, the new books represents their victory over illiteracy.

Dog story follow up

To the editor:

Thank you for the story and pictures about Daisy and Kevin Semak.

The Airport Police K9 unit really appreciated the coverage. Since your visit to cover the story about Daisy, she has since passed away.

Again, thank you for the story.

Project outlined

To the editor:

One of the objectives of the Rouge River National Wet Weather Demonstration Project (Rouge Project) is to inform the public of progress in restoring the Rouge River and about ways they can participate in pollution prevention activities occurring in the Rouge Watershed.

The Rouge Project is a multi-agency collaboration of local, state and federal government along with private sector consulting firms. The mission of the project is to restore the water quality in the Rouge River to:

- Provide a safe and healthy environment for ourselves and future generations.
- Protect downriver water resources such as the Detroit River and Lake Erie.
- Re-establish a healthy

Budget woes continue

To the editor:

During the 1992 campaign for the U.S. presidency, Democratic candidate Bill Clinton promised the American citizens he would protect Social Security, Medicare, Medicaid, and he would draft a National Health Care Bill to send to Congress for approval, if he was elected.

A few months later, Bill Clinton became the 42nd president of the nation. Immediately he wrote the Health Care Bill and submitted it to Congress. The bill was rejected as being too costly.

Two thirds of the members of Congress are Republicans and they had other ideas. Their objective was to balance the budget and give the rich an enormous tax break.

The bill stated that the National Debt should be paid in full in seven years by taking $270 billion out of the Medicare Fund, and over $3 billion from the other entitlements such as education, food stamps, school lunches, and many more programs. The only entitlement they didn't touch was Social Security. Millions of working Americans have Social Security deducted from their pay check every pay day. If Congress would dip their hands into this fund, what could happen? In all probabilities, there could be a riot or something worse.

When President Clinton kept refusing to sign the Budget Bill, Congress threatened to close all government offices, and the President still wouldn't budge. The Government was closed for five days before the Republicans made a compromise with Clinton to reopen them until the Dec. 15 unless they had budget bill they both could live with.

During the time of the close down, people berated the government for the inconvenience they experienced. They urged the President to sign the bill so they could return to normal living. If Clinton signed the bill, millions of poor people would suffer. As the Medicaid Bill stands today, not many doctors will except patients with this insurance. If there was no Medicare or Medicaid, not even the few who do except the present bill would take the new bill.

As time goes on and money will be taken little by little from the entitlements fund the rich will get richer, the poor will get poorer and only the rich will survive.

Mayor criticized

To the editor:

As I was scanning the cable channels I came to Channel 8 and saw Mayor Bob Thomas (which is nothing unusual) complaining about an article one of the local newspapers printed. He was berating the editor and in essence said he should not be criticized.

The mayor not only controls Channel 8, but now wants to control what the newspapers write! I think that has already happened. What happened to freedom of the press? The newspapers should tell the citizens exactly what is happening in this city. The financial picture is worsening and nothing is said. The lucrative contracts and huge retirement benefits that the mayor and council approved of is never mentioned, and the citizens of Westland will be burdened with the taxes to pay for them.

The newspapers should in fact report these things to the citizens because the mayor won't. It is time the tax-

Drivers have last word

While we see the logic in boosting speed limits in the wide open spaces of the West and in sparsely inhabited areas in other parts of the country, we also have some qualms about doing so.

Currently, we observe that many drivers view the maximum speed limits as the minimums. Those who travel on the interstate highways find themselves "left in the dust" of speeding vehicles when they travel at posted speed limits.

We realize that there are many areas of the state where roads will safely accommodate drivers at 70 mph. Realistically, motorists are doing so already, despite the 65 mph limit. Our fear is that a posting of 70 mph will be interpreted by some as an invitation to drive at least 70 mph.

It is our hope that state officials will be prudent in making their decisions about an increase in the maximum speed limits, and that drivers will exercise good judgment and caution on the roadways — whether or not speed limits are hiked.

Snow flakes, frigid weather on the way

Snow showers are expected today in the Metro area with frigid temperatures continuing, highs will be in the 20s and lows tonight in the teens.

Rain and snow are both possible on Friday, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration reports, with highs climbing into the 30s and lows again in the teens.

Snow showers are possible again Saturday with highs in the 30s and lows in the 20s.

Gift

While we cannot be present to witness the joy and appreciation for each book that is presented to an child or adult, Inkster Literacy Council Coordinator Selina Robinson brings their thanks and appreciation to us after each holiday, and also tells us the dramatic impact that the "gift of reading" brings to young and old.

There is still time to bring a new children's book to our Wayne office for distribution at Christmas. And, to give a gift that will enrich and enhance the life of the recipient for years to come.

payers of Westland are informed of what exactly is going on, whether Mayor Bob wants them to or not.

It is the responsibility of the papers to report all things happening in this city not just what the mayor wants us to know. Sooner or later we will find out, hopefully it won't be too late. Mayor, if you want to see the tape of what you said about me, call me, it's nothing like you said it was!

Mayor Bob, you said I should use my energy. Well myself and other citizens are going to do that. Hope you like what we'll be doing!

'Eye' poses danger

To the editor:

Once upon a time, a giant octopus ominously descended upon the Planet Earth directly from the Planet Orwell. Its tentacles spread rapidly throughout the world and it quickly monopolized thought control by advocating its shallow rhetoric of political correctness. Critics named this octopus the BIG EYE because it polluted the airwaves by promoting hedonism, self-aggrandizement and the ooze of materialism.

Soon the Big Eye poisoned the minds of children by glorifying violence, drugs, alcohol, and sexually deviant behavior. It significantly reduced their learning skills by shortening their attention spans, attacking the work ethic, and diverting their attention in the classroom to demands for entertainment.

Moreover, the BIG EYE degenerated the minds of adults by mesmerizing them with sound bites, sexually explicit talk shows, hyperbole about the need for tax increases, and gross distortions about school lunches and Medicare.

Gradually its slimy tentacles slithered into our political system by contriving support for politically correct candidates, castigating conservatives who dare to oppose abortions, embarrassing tax reformers, and ridiculing attempts by those who want to balance the federal budget.

Not surprisingly its greasy tentacles have also corrupted our judicial system. The BIG EYE has allowed trials to become wild circuses, glorified emotional appeals by sleazy lawyers, and drummed up sympathy for deviant defendants who excuse their behavior by wailing about child abuse.

THE BIG EYE is a perfect illustration of the axiom the media is the message, but it has become jaundiced and blinded by its greed, avarice, and delusions of grandeur. While this transparent octopus pretends to protect our first amendment freedoms, its selfish lust for absolute power works to promote conformity, mediocrity, and goose-stepping reactionary absolutism.

If our founding fathers were demonized by the BIG EYE, our nation would still be a colony of jolly old England!

The original British cast of Stomp is currently on tour in Europe. The American cast heads to the Fisher Theatre Dec. 5-17. Luke Cresswell was a founder member of Pookiesnackenburg, the busking band that forged its way into the alternative cabaret boom. After two albums, a Channel Four television series and extensive touring throughout Europe, the band also produced the highly acclaimed "Bins" commercial for Heineken Lager. The piece was originally written and choreographed by Cresswell as part of the band's stage show. It proved to be the starting point for Stomp's climactic dustbin dance. MCN Special Photo

Seductive Stomp sizzles with explosive, hypnotic, physical chemistry

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

It's explosive, provocative and downright infectious.

The musical sensation which captured applause from audiences of all ages returns to the Fisher Theatre for a limited engagement Dec. 5-17.

Stomp has been playing for more than two years at the off-Broadway Orpheum Theatre, and last year's 21-city North American tour was a complete sellout.

"The young, frenetic cast makes rhythm out of anything we can get our hands on that makes a sound," said Luke Cresswell, co-founder and director of Stomp.

Synchronized brooms, Zippo lighters, wooden poles, trash cans, paper bags, hubcaps and anything else that thumps, bumps, clicks or clacks is utilized in this unique theatrical experience.

Stomp has been seen on an impressive array of national television shows including David Letterman, Jay Leno Good Morning, America, Live! With Regis and Kathie Lee, Date-line NBC and the Kennedy Center Honors.

The cast that is headed to the Fisher consists of many talented performers including Ammenah Kaplan who was only 19 years old when she was selected to tour with Stomp.

"I started with Stomp when I was a sophomore studying drama at New York University," said Kaplan. "My roommate, who is also my best friend, saw a flyer for Stomp on a bulletin board. They were having an open call. I decided to go for it."

Competing against at least 900 hopefuls, Kaplan said she never saw Stomp in the theatre and really didn't know what to expect at the audition.

High-flying "Stompers" return to the Fisher Theatre for a two-week limited engagement. MCN Special Photo

"I was nervous," said Kaplan. "Because it wasn't straight acting or dancing, you couldn't prepare yourself. At the audition we were taught a little bit of their broom routine. After awhile, it was less nerve-wracking and it became a lot more fun."

Kaplan said she left the rehearsal not knowing if she captured the attention of the Stomp crew. She then received an unexpected call from the director.

"He said I got it," said Kaplan. "I was ecstatic. I was one of eight selected for the first show."

Kaplan, now 21 years old, was the youngest member of the Stomp crew when she went on her first tour throughout the U.S. She describes the show as being very emotional and physically demanding.

"It takes a tremendous amount of aerobic exercise," said Kaplan. "You are constantly moving to the beat of the music. I don't necessarily work out for the show, but I've actually gained muscle by being in the show."

"I've been with the show for a year and a half now, and it is still just as entertaining as it was in the very beginning."

A native of Atlanta, Kaplan graduated from a performing arts high school. Although she answered the door of opportunity early in her career, Kaplan said she plans to return to college to finish her degree.

"It's a definite decision for me to finish school," said Kaplan. "I want to get as much education as possible and to be able to strengthen my acting skills."

Kaplan dedicates her performances in Stomp to her father who unfortunately died the first week she toured with the company.

See SIZZLE, page B-3

Stomp is the winner of London's prestigious 1994 Olivier Award for best choreography and has caused a sensation at every one of its international appearances. The original cast members have appeared on numerous television shows and in commercials including Coca Cola and Target Stores. MCN Special Photo

"SERVING THE COMMUNITY FOR OVER 26 YEARS"

Caring program begins 5th year of coverage

From a youngster treated for severe asthma, to a child immunized against polio, the Caring Program for Children has had a positive impact on the lives of more than 11,000 children statewide.

Begun in November 1991 by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan, the Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan Foundation and the state of Michigan, the nonprofit program begins its fifth year of providing free basic and preventive health care coverage to uninsured children.

Since its inception, the program has enrolled more than 11,000 Michigan children and provided more than 50,000 medical services. Currently about 4,500 children are enrolled in the program. It also has identified in excess of 10,000 children whose family income levels made them eligible for Medicaid health care coverage and referred them to the state Medicaid program.

Openings are available in the program on a first come-first served basis, and families are encouraged to apply.

The Caring Program covers children in families whose income levels are above the Medicaid standards, have no access to health care coverage through an employer or other sources, and meet income and other guidelines. Many enrolled youngsters are in families where one or both parents work.

Youngsters receive basic, preventive and emergency care in addition to X-rays, doctor's office visits and diagnostic tests at no charge to families, and prescription drugs for a $1 co-payments.

Hospitalization is not included.

Eligible children must be under 19 years old, Michigan residents, unmarried, not eligible for any other government or private health care coverage, and meet income and other guidelines.

The family income guidelines for youngsters ages one to 15 are: $15,048 to $18,564 for a family of two, $18,888 to $23,292 for a family of three, $22,728-$28,032 for a family of four and $26,568 to $32,172 for a family of five.

The program is designed so that families who fall below its minimum income guidelines will qualify for the state's Medicaid Healthy Kids program.

Application forms are available by calling 1-800-543-7765, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Junior Achievement volunteers sought

Junior Achievement is seeking volunteers who are interested in making a difference in the community by reaching out to a child.

Today, more than 2,000 Junior Achievement programs take place in nearly 400 schools in southeastern Michigan reaching students from kindergarten to 12th grade.

Junior Achievement programs focus on the importance of staying in school and give young people real-life competitive business experiences.

The professional staff will guide volunteers through a full orientation process and then work with them in identifying the appropriate grade level and school/classroom situation for individual interests and backgrounds.

Opportunities are available in southern Wayne County for the 1995-96 school year. To learn more about how to get involved in this valuable educational opportunity, please contact a Junior Achievement marketing representative at (313) 255-3900.

Sizzle

"My father and I were always very close," said Kaplan. "It's ironic. He didn't want me to go to New York at first. He also wanted me to stay in school. But, when I got here and when this opportunity came about, he was right there supporting me."

Kaplan said being a member of the Stomp crew has offered her the chance to learn many performance techniques that weren't available in the classroom.

"I've put my practical skills to use from New York University, but what I've learned through touring and hands-on can't be taught through a textbook. Stomp is an emotional experience everyone should enjoy."

"It offers something different to each member of the audience. I really enjoy being a part of such a unique production."

Kaplan hopes to get involved with more theatre productions on a smaller scale.

"I also wouldn't mind trying a few roles in front of a camera," said Kaplan.

Tickets are now on sale for Stomp at all TicketMaster locations and at the Fisher Theatre. For ticket prices and show times call 810-645-6666 or 313-872-1000.

Only Choo Choo's shows all NFL games

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

Choo Choo's Bar and Grill (36980 Ford Road, Westland) is a dream come true for every hard-core National Football League fan who must watch every game live.

"We're the home of the NFL Ticket," said Bob Chuba, a partner in Choo Choo's with his dad John. "We're the only bar in the metropolitan-area that can show all of the NFL games at 1 p.m. and 4 p.m."

To get an idea of the Sunday excitement inside the 120-seat bar, multiply the thrill of watching one game times seven, since there's usually seven NFL games going on at once.

Because Choo Choo's screens all the games on its 25 televisions -- ceiling mounted so every fan has an unobstructed view of the action -- groups of fans come from Ann Arbor, Flint and other far away places to view all the thrills and upsets as they happen in a good-time family atmosphere.

That's why the bar is packed a half hour before the 1 p.m. Sunday kickoff.

With all the league's players on view, Choo Choo's has become the state headquarters for fantasy football. Fantasy league players create their own dream teams from imaginary combinations of star players. The fantasy teams' ratings are determined by the performances of the players in their NFL games. At Choo Choo's, fans and fantasy players can follow their favorite players live instead of having to rely on newspaper statistics or game highlights on the 11 p.m. news.

"By getting the NFL Ticket Show we were finally able to give football fans what they've been asking for," said Bob.

Devising a television system capable of receiving all the games was as complicated as it was expensive. It required the Chubas to hook up to different cable and satellite broadcasts. The TV system required over 3,000 feet of cable to make it work.

"We had wanted to recreate the look and feel of a Las Vegas sports book when we started Choo Choo's six years ago," said Bob. "This was because Dad and I love football. We had always been Lions season ticket holders," said Bob.

But after finally putting the NFL Ticket together, the John and Bob Chuba made football Choo Choo's mission.

Chubas gave up their season tickets.

"This is more exciting," Bob explained.

When I tried their six-ounce pollak fillets, it was my first time eating the fish. The snow-white meat flaked easily. It tasted like cod but sweeter.

Choo Choo's served the golden-brown fillets, which were dipped in beer batter, with tartar sauces.

Besides eating, there's drinking. Happy hour is 3-7 p.m., Monday-Friday. It features 36-ounce draft beers served in iced moonshine-like mason jars for $2.50. There's also hard liquor specials for $1.75 per shot.

Choo Choo's newest addition are the three electronic dart boards, so new that they have all the bells and whistles and offer throwers several options for each game.

For more information, call 326-3890. Or show up on Sunday -- but come at least a half hour before kickoff if you want a seat.

Holiday entertainment abounds with theatre

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

The holiday season has arrived, and it's time to not only think about shopping for gifts but also to plan entertainment for the entire family.

From the mesmerizing musical phenomena of Stomp at the Fisher Theatre to the spectacular display of Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat at the Masonic Temple Theatre, Western Wayne County residents have than enough unique gifts to choose from.

The following is a brief overview of the many live productions:

FISHER THEATRE

• Stomp-Dec. 5-17 at the Fisher Theatre in Detroit. The theatrical spectacle that startled, astonished, jolted and energized Detroit area audiences last year is back.

Trash cans, brooms, buckets, paperbags, cigarette lighters and the kitchen sink are just some of the rhythm-producing items used by this gang of eight "pop art for the ears". For tickets call 810-645-6666.

THE MASONIC TEMPLE THEATRE

• Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat-now through Jan. 28 at The Masonic Temple Theatre in Detroit. This unique production, with lyrics by Tim Rice and music by Andrew Lloyd Webber, is a joyous, tune-filled musical retelling of the familiar Biblical yarn of Joseph and his 11 brothers at the time of the Pharaoh.

Andrew Lloyd Webber's production of Joseph premiered at the world-renowned London Palladium June 12, 1981, and was given its North American premiere by LIVENT at Toronto's Elgin Theatre in June 1992. For tickets call 810-645-6666.

• Disney's Beauty and the Beast arrives at The Masonic Temple March 19 for a limited engagement. Audiences are sure to enjoy the same full-length Broadway musical, complete with spectacular production numbers, elaborate costumes and unforgettable songs, that have been wowing Broadway audiences since the show opened in New York.

With technical wizardry and imaginative design, Beauty and the Beast is transferred from screen to stage enhancing the elements that made the animated film a favorite around the world.

For tickets call 810-645-6666.

THE PALACE THEATRE

• The Young Messiah Farewell Tour featuring Steven Curtis Chapman and Twila Paris with Carman, 4H1M, Point of Grace, Larnelle Harris, Wayne Watson, Ce Ce Winans, Margaret Becker, Clay Crosse, Wes King and Chris Eaton heads to The Palace of Auburn Hills Dec. 12.

Tickets can be purchased by calling 810-645-6666.

• Nutcracker on Ice starring Peggy Fleming, Nicole Bobek,

The original Broadway cast of Disney's Beauty and the Beast heads to the Masonic Temple March 19, 1996 for a limited engagement. MCN Special Photo

Todd Eldredge with special guest Brian Orser Dec. 22 at the Palace of Auburn Hills.

This unforgettable show will dazzle audiences of all ages with the elegant performance by Fleming and the energetic presence of Bobek and Eldredge. Tickets can be purchased by calling 810-645-6666.

PONTIAC SILVERDOME

• Camper, Travel and RV Show Jan. 24-28 at the Pontiac Silverdome. Everything a family needs for the outdoors can be found at this show. Tickets can be purchased at the door.

• Boat, Sport and Fishing Show Feb. 14-18 at the Pontiac Silverdome. Water enthusiasts will find everything over and under the aqua for fishing and watersports. Tickets can be purchased at the door.

• Michigan Home and Garden Show Feb. 29-March 3 at the Pontiac Silverdome. A wide variety of home and garden items will be on display with experts waiting to offer helpful tips for garden and home enthusiasts. Tickets can be purchased at the door.

MUSEUM OF AFRICAN AMERICAN HISTORY

• The Museum of African American History presents "A Slave Ship Speaks: The Wreck of the Henrietta Marie" sponsored by General Motors Dec. 14-March 15, 1996.

The exhibition will focus on the Henrietta Marie, the most complete slave ship ever discovered in the western hemisphere and the only one to be fully identified, recorded, archaeologically examined and preserved.

The Museum of African American History is located at 301 Frederick Douglas in Detroit. To book a tour call 313-833-9800.

SECOND CITY

• A gift certificate this holiday season to Second City makes a great gift any time. Available in any denomination, a Second City gift certificate can be used for tickets to a fabulous revue such as the critically acclaimed Whitewater Rafting or the Second City

Touring Company's The Best of Second City.

For show times and ticket prices call 313-965-2222.

ROYAL OAK MUSIC THEATRE

• Now celebrating its 10th Nutcracker season, the Oakland Festival Ballet Co., a non-profit organization founded and directed by Cornelia Sampson, will stage 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. performances of the holiday classic Dec. 16-17 at the Royal Oak Music Theatre.

Tickets are available at all Ticket Master Outlets or at the box office located at 318 west Fourth Street, Royal Oak. For ticket prices call 810-546-7610.

GEM THEATRE

• The packages have long since been unwrapped. Their contents broken or forgotten. The nights are long, dark and cold. The Gem Theatre offers a guaranteed way to warm winter evenings—a cold blooded murder.

Gift certificates this holiday season are available for the hilarious whodunit Shear Madness at the Gem Theatre now through Dec. 31. To purchase tickets or gift certificates call 313-963-9800.

DETROIT PUBLIC LIBRARY

• "Fabulous Fabric Fancie", "Airedaleabilia" and "African American Quilter" are a few of the displays in this year's "Detroiters Collect" exhibit at the Detroit Public Library, 5201 Woodward Ave., now through Jan. 6, 1996.

Now in its 11th year, "Detroiters Collect" gives area residents a view of the fascinating and sometimes unique collections that exist in the metropolitan area. For tickets call or exhibition times call 833-4042.

FOX THEATRE

• A CHRISTMAS CAROL will entertain children and adults of all ages at the Fox Theater Dec. 5-10. The Charles Dickens' classic holiday story stars Academy Award nominee John Astin.

For tickets and show times call 810-433-1515.

DETROIT INSTITUTE OF ARTS

• A treasure-trove of Venetian masterpieces, many never before seen in the U.S., will grace the galleries of the Detroit Institute of Arts as part of the exhibition "Treasures of Venice: Paintings from the Museum of Fine Arts, Budapest" which opens Feb. 18-May 12, 1996.

The Nutcracker dances about the Royal Oak Music Theatre stage Dec. 16-17 featuring the Oakland Festival Ballet Co. MCN Special Photo

Area veterans recall the attack on Pearl Harbor

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

While everybody knows that the anniversary of the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor falls on Dec. 7, not everybody knows that many soldiers from Western Wayne County were there, dodging the bombs and shrapnel.

"I wasn't scared," said Miles Brickey. "I didn't know what was going on."

"I didn't have any fears because I knew we would do something to win the war," said Nathan Weiser.

The assault began on the morning of Dec. 7, 1941. The Japanese bombardment was a complete surprise. All but 29 of the bombers returned to their aircraft carriers and the Rising Sun's fleet escaped intact. Almost all the damage was done to the American base. Bombs sunk or damaged 18 warships.

President Franklin Roosevelt said that the day would "live in infamy."

Fortunately the attack, which roused the American public, failed to deliver a knock-out blow. The ships were sunk in shallow water and most were saved and quickly sent into combat.

Brickey and Weiser fought in the Pacific and Europe, and shared their memories of World War II.

Brickey had enlisted in the Army on Dec. 15, 1939. Eventually he joined the military police and was stationed at Hickam Field, next to Pearl Harbor, where he was in charge of ground forces.

"The morning of Dec. 7, 1941, I was taking a shower and getting ready to go to breakfast when the attack began. Everybody had a different opinion about what was going on. At first, I didn't know what was happening. By the time I realized we were under attack, it was too late to do anything."

"So I ran to the parade ground with my men. We tried to round up some ammunition but couldn't get to it because it was locked up. Though we had been on alert the previous week, we had been issued weekend passes Friday and turned in our ammunition before leaving the base," said Brickey. "I spent three weeks picking up bodies. I was still in shock because we couldn't do anything about the situation. If the Japanese had stayed, they could have landed troops and captured the island. But we knew that we would beat the Japs in the long run."

Brickey later fought in the Philippines and Guam and was then shipped to England with the 8th Air Force, later joining Gen. George Patton's Army as a foot soldier in France.

Nathan Weiser, who lives in Wayne, never intended to be a soldier but he enlisted in the U.S. Army Air Corp. in November 1940 with two of his friends because he couldn't get a job as a teacher. Sent to Hawaii, he became a radio engineer and studied electronics while most soldiers learned how to shoot and repair guns.

"When the war started, I didn't know what to do with my .45. But I learned quick," he said.

"On the day of the attack, I had just finished my breakfast at 8 a.m. at Wheeler Field. I had planned to go aboard the aircraft carrier Lexington, but it had already left port."

"When the bombs hit, some dishes fell on the floor. The mess sergeant came running in, screaming, 'I'm going to court martial whoever was responsible for breaking those dishes.'"

"At first, I thought that we were continuing the maneuvers we had with the Navy the prior week. I thought the Navy was back again."

"But then I saw the Red Sun insignia on the incoming planes. I remember one pilot flying so low that I could see the goggles on his eyes and a red scarf around his neck. I could see everything blowing up like on the Fourth of July. They hit the hangar containing our ammunition first. They knew right where it was. A Japanese man ran our PX. We suspected him of providing the military intelligence."

"The morning of Dec. 7, 1941, I was taking a shower and getting ready to go to breakfast when the attack began."

- Miles Brickey

"I ran out of the building to take cover under a building, but an old man we called 'Indian Joe' who was outside calmly peeling potatoes, warned me not go under the building. So we ran to Scofield Barracks, though it was hard to run with all the bombing and strafing."

Miles Brickey

Gift of reading New books sought for pre-schoolers

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

Donations of new books are still needed to provide gifts for 400 Inkster Head Start pupils.

"This year, we need 400 or more books so that each child can have their own book to take home during the holidays," said Selenia Robinson, coordinator of the Inkster Literacy Council (ILC) book drive.

Once again, Michigan Community Newspapers is one of the collection sites for the books. For the past three years, the newspaper has co-sponsored the book drive with the ILC.

"As always, we are excited, thankful and appreciate your support. Last year, the newspaper helped us collect books, and we are pleased that they are working with us again this year," Robinson said.

Toys, games and candies received by children at Christmas will someday disappear or fade away, but the gift of reading can stay with a child forever, she said.

"By the children owning their own books, they learn so much more than reading skills," said Inkster Head Start site leader Christina Swasey. "They are learning to expand their imagination, to care for their own property and to take pride in ownership."

The sponsors of the drive

ask that the books have a general theme, rather than a Santa Claus or Christmas focus.

New books, appropriate for young children, may be brought to the MCN office during regular business hours through next Thursday.

Other collection sites are:

- Lincoln Child Development Center, 3414 Ash St., Inkster, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

- Inkster Adult Education office 29807 Parkwood, Inkster.

Information about the book drive can be obtained by calling Selina Robinson at Inkster High School; Delores James, director of Inkster Adult and Community Education, 721-8080, or Joan Dyer-Zinner at the MCN office, 729-4000.

Books will be distributed to youngsters at 11 a.m. Dec. 19.

As an offshoot of the program, State Representative Tom Kelly donated two boxes of new books to the adult literacy program as gifts for the students, and several used books were donated for the Head Start book shelves.

For the past several years, Selenia Robinson has worked with the Inkster Literacy Council to provide books for Head Start pupils. This year, the drive has expanded to include tutoring students. MCN photo by Joan Dyer-Zinner

Ameritech voted top corporation

Minority Business Report, the long-running television program aired on WGN-TV, has selected Ameritech as the outstanding corporation of 1995.

Ameritech, one of the world's largest telecommunications companies, strongly believes diversity does work. In recent years, the company has taken positive steps to assure that the full range of the labor pool is represented at all levels of the company comprising 60,000 employees.

Last year alone, Ameritech provided more than $100 million in contracts and other resources to minority- and women-owned businesses throughout the five-state Ameritech region.

"Diversity is not an option; it is a necessity for survival," said Jim Wilkes, president of Ameritech Michigan. "There has been a lot of speculation in recent months about what will happen if the government backs away from affirmative action. As far as Ameritech is concerned, our commitment to diversity remains unchanged."

Ameritech, a worldwide provider of services to more than 13 million customers, is creating dozens of new information, entertainment and interactive services for homes, businesses and governments.

One of the world's leading cellular companies, Ameritech serves more than 1.5 million cellular and 700,000 paging customers.

Hospital names a new manager

Joan Valentine, RN, BSN, MSA, has been appointed the manager of Quality Assessment/Risk Management and Patient Relations at Henry Ford Wyandotte Hospital.

Valentine will be responsible for building a cohesive Quality Assessment department, managing patient advocacy, and development of risk prevention programs.

Adults, who are being tutored by the Inkster Literacy Council, will be the recipients of new books as holiday gifts thanks to State Rep. Thomas Kelly. After hearing about the Michigan Community Newspaper holiday book drive, Kelly, who is a member of the state Library Board, was able to obtain new surplus books to present as gifts to the adult students. ## Restaurateur Haab dies, 89

Oscar Haab, 89, died Nov. 29 at his home.

Haab's Restaurant on Michigan Avenue has been a city institution for more than 60 years, although Haab no longer owned it.

Although Haab had extensive real estate holdings, the restaurant was the only building with his name on it until the Haab medical building was built on North Huron.

He didn't start out in Ypsilanti, however. Born in 1906 on the family's 400-acre farm in Freedom Township, he was the youngest of eight brothers and one sister. When Haab was 13, the family moved to Ann Arbor.

He graduated from the University of Michigan with a degree in literature in 1932. His brother, Otto, earned a master's degree in languages in 1930.

But good jobs were hard to find in the depths of the depression, so the brothers decided to create their own. They opened the Haab

Brother's Old German Restaurant on Washington and Ashley streets in Ann Arbor.

A heart bypass operation in 1984, several strokes, diabetes and glaucoma severely slowed Haab down.

Despite his death, Haab's influence will continue to be felt in the Ypsilanti area, according to a spokesman from the business community.

Haab donated land and an historic house, valued at more than $320,000 to Catherine McAuley Health System.

Haab was once of a dozen people who founded the Huron Valley National Bank in Ann Arbor, which was sold to Comerica in 1982.

Haab created a trust fund worth more than $2 million, which will be used to create an undergraduate school of business at Concordia College.

Haab's financial banking helped create the James Breakey Inn, a catering and dining operation at the historic Breakey House at 125 N. Huron Street.

as well as extension sites in Auburn Hills, Farmington Hills, Dearborn Heights, Southfield, and Waterford.

Candice S. Miller, Michigan Secretary of State, will deliver the commencement address and will receive an honorary doctorate of science in business administration.

Clearly to hold commencement

Clearly College will award more than 160 bachelor and associate degrees at its third annual winter commencement exercises at 10 a.m. on Dec. 9 in the Donald M. Silkworth Auditorium, Ypsilanti.

Graduates include students from both the Washtenaw and Livingston county campuses.

Who will lead Tigers out of jungle?

Mega hoops co-champs see survival-of-the fittest battle

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

It's a jungle out there. A Mega Conference, Red Division hoops' jungle. Just ask Belleville coach Michael Garland, who has to find someone to lead his Tigers in a league packed with talent.

The Belleville coach is the first to admit that survival of the fittest may play a major role on which team surfaces out of the jungle first. Though most coaches agree that Wayne Memorial may win the top prize, the best may not stand the test of time.

"I can see a team with possibly three losses winning the title," said Garland whose Tigers split the title with Wayne a year ago. "Wayne is going to be extremely tough, but Dearborn beat them last year and Dearborn has moved up to our division. "And then there is Romulus. They are also in our league this year. I don't have to tell anyone who has lived around here what kind of program they have over there at Romulus. Believe me, the best teams may not have a lock on the championship this year. I think you're going to have to go out there every game to prove yourself. And that isn't going to be easy. Watch and see."

The watch began for most local teams Tuesday night, and the see for Belleville will start Friday night when Detroit Chadsey invades Belleville.

"We don't know what they (Chadsey) have," Garland said. "But they won't lack in size or talent, you can bank on that."

But neither will this year's Belleville squad.

The Tigers won't take a back seat to any area team. The cochamps have six players, including two mobile big men, who can push their way around under the boards with the best of them and helped run up a 17-5 overall record last year.

All six are physically ready to play after coming off of an outstanding football season. (Belleville won the 1995 Mega Conference Red Division championship and finished

Robichaud prepares for its final SAC campaign

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The 1995-96 SAC hoops campaign is the last one for the Suburban Athletic Conference teams.

Some, like Robichaud, are going independent; others, like Oak Park, have gained acceptance in other leagues.

And, because Robichaud has only one returning starter, most would dismiss the Bulldogs' chances of becoming the final kingpin of what is considered one of the best high school basketball leagues in the state.

The holdover is Brian Johnson, who is a 6-3 senior that came on like Hugo in the Class B district playoffs when he swirled past Divine Child and scored a career high 27 points against the state champs.

No doubt about it - Johnson is Robichaud's main man.

But the take-charge player doesn't have a supporting cast. Not yet, anyway. Coach Ron Tarrant is working on that, but even the veteran coach says that "it's going to take time."

And to survive in the SAC against the likes of such state powers as Highland Park, River Rouge, Willow Run, Inkster and Ecorse, the Dearborn Heights cagers will need more than one shining star.

"We have a nice group of kids, and I like working with them," said Tarrant, who began his 19th year in coaching - his fifth at Robichaud - Tuesday night when the Bulldogs took on Ypsilanti Lincoln.

"But, no position is locked up. It's all up for grabs."

If Tarrant can keep the Bulldogs focus on the essentials and tensions don't rise when the losses accumulate, he believes "that we could be a power to contend with in the second half of the season."

"Right now, we are inexperienced and need game-time experience. We can't allow a setback or two to stop us. We'll win our share only if the kids are willing to pay the price."

Robichaud's rebuilding will depend a lot upon how fast Jason Malloy, a 6-2 sophomore, matures. A recent All-Area football pick, Malloy has exceptional athletic ability and also is a well-disciplined athlete.

Malloy and Johnson have been designated as co-captains for the team.

Up from the junior varsity is three more building blocks:

Devaron Gray, a 6-0 sophomore; Damon Williams, a 5-10 sophomore; and Travis Gunn, a deft-ballhandler, who could develop into an excellent point guard.

Tarrant sees his old haunt, Willow Run, as the frontrunner in the chase for the last SAC title.

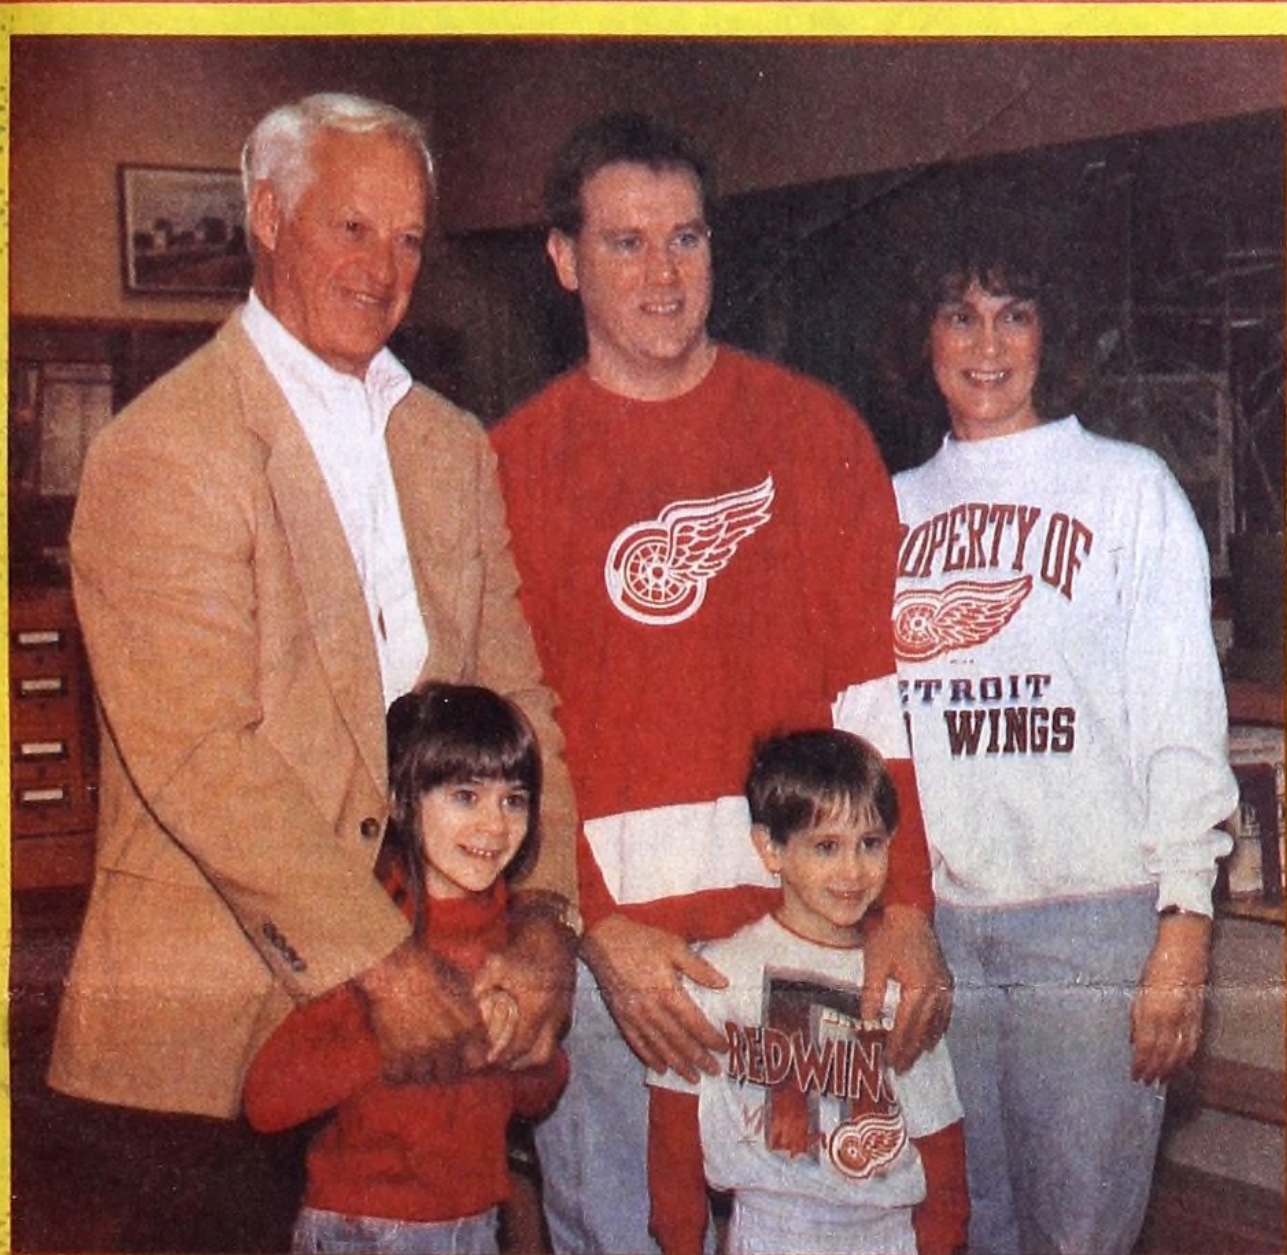

"They (Willow Run) have a lot of people back," said Tarrant who served as the Flyers' coach before seeking greener pastures in Dearborn Heights. "But you never know in this league - there is so much basketball talent. Inkster doesn't have Albert White, but they have a lot of those kids who won the title a year ago."

White, who led the Vikings to the SAC title a year ago, is with the University of Michigan this year.

Although they have petitioned the Mega Conference for membership, Robichaud has not been accepted in the conference. The Westwood School District, arguing that the conference is practicing discrimination by not allowing the district to participate in the league, has filed a lawsuit in Federal Court to force the Mega Conference to open its door to Westwood students.

The Office of the Civil Rights Commission is also investigating to see if any Civil Rights' laws have been violated.

In the meantime, Robichaud has decided it will leave the SAC and join the independent ranks in the 1996-97 school year.

Wrestling teams face realignments

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

For the first time in recent memory, the Michigan High School Athletic Association will not crown a Class A state champion in wrestling.

Or a Class B, C, or D champ.

Acting upon a coaches' recommendation, the MHSAA has revised the classes and established four divisions statewide in which prep grapplers and teams will be assigned.

According to MHSAA figures, there are 440 high schools in Michigan that have announced they will be fielding wrestling teams for the 1995-96 season and those teams have been divided, according to student enrollment, to four divisions, of 110 teams each.

Division I will have 111 teams with Traverse City, with a student population of 2425 as the largest and Warren, with 1,177 students as the smallest school in the division. Most local high schools, with the exception of Robichaud and Inkster, will be assigned to Division I.

Division II will include all schools that have a student count of 1,169 - 727; Division III 723-470; and Division 4: 468 -35.

"We believe this is a fairer way to decide individual and team state championships," said Inkster High wrestling coach Sam Ellis, who has coached high school wrestlers for the past 19 years. "The MHSAA acted on the coaching association's recommendation which found that some athletes who were assigned in Class C or D were winning state titles with losing records. We felt that dividing the athletes into divisions may help correct that."

Belleville seeks swim 'tripeat'

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

With most of the swimmers who helped coach George Devore win the first two Mega Conference, White Division championships, most White division coaches agree that it will be tough to beat defending champ, Belleville, this year.

The Tigers compiled a perfect 6-0 record in the division and also were 10-0 overall a year ago.

Devore has the bulk of the lineup that won the past two titles ready to help launch his fourth season as head coach at Belleville.

But the Tigers may be forced to delay the start of the 1995-96 campaign, originally scheduled for Dec. 14 against New Boston Huron. Huron apparently is having problems putting together a team.

The Tiger coach said he has been looking for a replacement to fill the schedule but, on Monday, admitted he has been unsuccessful because most area teams have other commitments.

"I really believe we have a chance to repeat," said Devore. "We have the talent and the work ethics to do so. There is one big question mark, however. We just don't know what the challengers have coming up to fill their rosters."

Opponents, such as Taylor Truman and Carlson are the major threats to the Belleville title monopoly. They could upset Tiger plans for a tri-peat.

But on paper, the Tigers are more than a paper Tiger, thanks to the return of a cadre of Belleville lettermen who have the potential to stop any wannabe title dreamer.

Leading the two-time champs will be junior Aaron Lang, a sprinter who, if he continues to improve, could to the

Future stars Robichaud posts 7-1 season

Don't despair, Robichaud, help is on its way.

Robichaud, also ran in the Suburban Athletic Conference women's basketball circuit, will be receiving the services in the next year - or two - of several outstanding junior high talents who managed to post an enviable 7-1 record this season.

"These players have a lot of potential," said coach Warren Woods. "I am proud at their achievement. They can mesh into a great team in the future if they continue to work hard."

Although the junior high team got off on the wrong foot, losing a 43-38 decision to Willow Run, the team soared back and won their next seven games. They buried Ecorse, 43-4, behind guard Ericka Davis' stellar performance, then ripped natural rival, Inkster, 32-3.

Robichaud went on to beat River Rouge,

47-13, and then turned back Willow Run in their rematch, 40-24, to avenge their earlier setback.

"I felt that that victory over Willow Run was the turning point," said Woods. "The kids played great."

In their final three games, Robichaud dumped Ecorse 57-25; destroyed Inkster again, 43-9, before bringing down the curtains to the season with a 50-6 victory over Rouge.

Co-captain Natahsya Spears, an eighth grader, was among the team's top performers, scoring in double figures seven of the eight games.

Other team members included: Ericka Davis, Carrie Hill, Angelica Ross, Lakeisha Coleman, Denise Hill, Kali Gipson, Becky Kirkland, Tracie Scott, Adrienne Bulger, Amber Beene, Elbonee Bryant, and Kimberly Bohanon.

Plymouth-Canton, Salem rule All-League hoops selections

Although they posted a perfect 10-0 record, Plymouth-Canton finished second-best to Walled Lake Central in the overall Western Lakes Conference women's basketball standings.

Central wrapped up the conference title thanks to a 11-0 record, while Canton finished runner-up with a 10-0 mark. (The two didn't meet in conference action).

Plymouth-Salem settled for third-best (9-2), followed by Northville (8-3), Farmington Harrison (7-4), North Farmington (6-5), Walled Lake Western (4-7), Farmington (4-7), Livonia Franklin (3-8), Westland John Glenn (2-9), Livonia Stevenson (2-9) and Livonia Churchill (0-11).

Canton however was declared the Western Division champ by virtue of its perfect 5-0 record; Central walked off with the Lakes Division title.

Canton and Salem placed one player each on the All-Conference team. Canton was represented by Sarah Warnke, while Salem's Shellye Sills was drafted to the all-star lineup.

Rounding out the first team were Jessica Alsup (Walled Lake Central), Becky Cummings (Walled Lake Central), Samantha Leger (Northville) and Jeanna Stewart (Walled Lake Central).

The All-Western Team included Canton's Kristi Fiorenzi and Becky Vachow, while Salem also placed two on the All-Lakes Team with Amanda Abraham and Andrea Pruett.

All-Area women's hoop team next

Who were the top women's basketball players in the area during the recently concluded season?

The Michigan Community Newspapers' Sports Staff will announce its "Dream Team" next week.

The team, assembled by MCN staff writer Lori Gillespie in cooperation with the area high school basketball coaches, will appear in next week special edition of the MCN.

with a 10-1 overall record).

Seniors Eric Summers and Derrick Agurs can also work the boards with the best of them, and both are seasoned players who have two years of varsity experience behind them. Then, there is senior point guard Sam Reid, who has the ability to do just about anything with the ball. And 6-2 Nate Lewis, who quarterbacked the Tigers' football team, along with Ian Gold, a 6-2 senior running back who, with 23 TDs, established a record for scoring at the school.

It may take time for Lewis and Gold to refine their moves, but when they do they definitely will be assets.

Belleville also has Clinton Garland, a 5-10 senior, who grew up listening to his father talk about basketball.

When Garland needs to go to the bench, he will have three good-looking juniors - Clayton Lewis (6-2), Machaia Coats (6-2) and Anjou Golden (6-7) to use.

If there is any head-swelling over at Wayne Memorial, which has all six players who started 90 percent of all of its games a year ago when they reached the Class A state quarterfinals, look for Belleville to deflate the Zebras.

If there is a team that has managed to cut Wayne down to size in the past, it has been Belleville. The rivalry has matured and grown over recent years thanks to the excellent coaches and players at the two local schools.

From past experiences, Garland knows Wayne is not the kind to self-destruct. To light any fuse to destroy Wayne is to beat the Zebras at its own game - to break their full-court press. And few teams in recent years have managed to do that.

"We both have a lot of weapons," said Garland. "But Wayne is one of many we must be concerned with. Like I said, there are so many good teams in this league this year."

Like a jungle.

Format

"You have some 440 teams in the state and they will be broken down, according to size, but there will be an equal number of teams in each of these divisions. In the old format, Class A or B had more teams than those in Class C or D. This is the first time the state is trying this (divisional format), and it should be interesting to see what happens."

The 44-year-old Ellis, a former All-State wrestler at Dearborn Fordson who competed as a heavyweight in college at Eastern Michigan University, is in his fifth year as head coach at Inkster High.

Ellis' last two teams have won Suburban Athletic Conference titles, and he would like a repeat "because this will probably be the last year for the SAC." (SAC affiliates Oak Park has dropped out to compete in a Mega Conference in Oakland County, while Dearborn Heights Robichaud has informed the league that it will compete as an independent next year. Willow Run apparently also wants out, leaving Rouge, Highland Park, Ecorse and Inkster to fend for themselves.)

Ellis is still short of manpower to complete his 14-weight roster for the 1995-96 season. The Vikings' season will begin tonight at home against Fairlane Christian.

"I am still looking for kids for the light and heavy weights, and this season will depend upon who shows up to wrestle," said Ellis.

The Vikings have three outstanding talents returning from last year's championship squad: Anthony Melchor, a senior who will compete at the 119 or 125 weight class and a regional qualifier a year ago. Melchor had a 19-3 record a year ago; Darwin Baker, a 152-160-pounder (21-9); and heavyweight Kevin Jackson (30-10) are among the Vikings' premier grapplers.

Also ready to defend Inkster's honor on the mats are: Michael Franklin (119); Scotty Thornborough (189); Makimba Mimms (130-135); Juajuan Gould (135-140); and Sharnell Owens (152-160).

On Saturday, the Vikings and Ellis will get a glimpse at present and past SAC teams which will assemble to compete for the River Rouge Invitational title. Along with the host and Inkster, the assemblage will include Willow Run, Oak Park, Clarenceville, Fairlane Christian, Wyandotte, and Highland Park.

top contender in the 50, 100 and 200-meter freestyle events.

Devore said he believes Lang has a good shot at qualifying for the Class A state finals this season. Another Belleville standout is senior Todd Carrico, who won the division contender for the 200-meter individual medley and the 100-meter breaststroke.

Ted Church, a junior, will be the Tigers' point-getter in the 200 and 500-meter freestyle events.

Belleville may also have the best diver in the division thanks to Aaron Gentle. Coach Gordon Clearwood's protege finished third a year ago, but one of those divers was eliminated via graduation.

Other Belleville standouts are Jonathan Shaw, who was third in the freestyle distances, and Austin Rich, another junior, whose versatility may be used in the butterfly or freestyle events.

Devore may also cash in on the wealth of talent moving up from the middle schools. Since the school district reinstated the junior high swim program, South and North.

In the swimmers-to-watch category are freshmen Blake Bradslater, an IM and freestyler; Eric Shrader, who is being groomed as a sprinter and breaststroker; and Eric Price, who specializes in the freestyle.

Devore and the Tigers did suffer a setback before the season even began. The team will be without the valuable coaching assistance of Sam Vichey.

Schedules please

With the end of one season begins the next - winter.

And the Michigan Community Newspapers' sports staff is urging area athletic directors who have not yet mailed in their high school's winter sports schedules to either mail or fax the information to the MCN offices.

The MCN fax number is 313-729-6088.

North Middle School cross country termed 'fantastic'

The North Middle School girls' and boys' cross country teams both concluded fantastic seasons for 1995.

The girls' team finished their dual and quad meet season with a 9-0 record. The North girls took first place in the Walled Lake Invitational, first in the Belleville Florence Brown Invitational. The girls also placed second at the Grosse Ile Invitational.

Eighth-grader Natalie Yeakle and seventh-grader Brooke Robinson distinguished themselves as two of the fastest runners in the area as they ran first, second, or third in most of the meets. Amanda Pietrowski, Chantell Riley, Kim Bobbitt, Stacy Cohenour, Christen Cullen, and Nicole Miller formed the nucleus of the strongest team ever seen at North Middle School. Other runners for North were: Christine Batten, Rachel Hoeft, Melissa Long, Patience Smith, Kelly Thornsbury, Iyleea Torres, Valerie Toth, and Lisa Wauer.

The North boys' team also had their best team ever. The boys finished with a 7-3 record in the dual and quad meets, and won the Walled Lake Invitational, took first in the Grosse Ile Invitational, and won the Florence Brown Invitational. They also placed second at the 18-school White Lake Invitational and second at the Saline Invitational.

Eighth-graders Thomas

Haley, Jon Carnahan, Mike Simon, Joe Hubbs, and seventh-grader Tony Roe formed the nucleus of this outstanding team. Other runners were: Montrose Brock, Burke Dawson, Aaron Forman, Joseph Gofton, Jeff Hadley, Jason Householder, Michael Jones, Robert Keeskes, John Martin, Brandon Thorne, Charles Thorne, and Zac Victor from the seventh grade, Benjamin Bach, Daniel Blaharski, Kurtis Casto, Charles Peck, Jeremiah Plott, Chad Reimold, and Neil Leonard from the eighth grade.

Cross country coach Gary Kniffen credits this team's success to an incredible team effort and very hard work in practice by individual athletes. "This team was truly dedicated and worked harder than any team I have ever coached."

men's golf coach at Rollins in 1989, she led the school to unprecedented success. She coached the team to three NCAA-Division II National Championships (1991, 1992, and 1994) and a runner-up spot in 1995. Rollins was represented by one to three players at the national championship meet for the past five years. She also coached eight All-Americans, including one golfer who won the medalist honors as top individual golfer for three consecutive years.

At EMU, she will be responsible for building the EMU women's program from the ground up as the sport was approved in 1994 with the first season of competition slated to begin with the 1996-97 season. Her appointment is effective immediately.

Inkster Polar Bears shutout by Fraser 3-0, now 2-3-1

By LORI GILLESPIE
MCN Staff Writer

The Inkster Polar Bears, the women's hockey team, lost 3-0 against the team from Fraser Nov. 29.

Their record is now 2-3-1.

Before the game, their coach, Gil Ruicci, said, "Several of our players aren't playing because they are sick."

With the starting-goalie out with the flu, back-up goalie Betsy Whitmer was left to face Fraser's offense. After allowing one goal in the first period, Whitmer stood tall in the goal during the second period. But, in the third, Fraser managed to get two more past her, including one short-handed goal. The Polar Bears' offense also had some problems. Although they managed some shots-on-goal, the Polar Bears' offense could not get the puck past the Fraser goalie.

The game was spattered with penalties on both sides, mainly tripping and holding calls.

Aside from illness, the Polar Bears were missing two players due to pregnancy. "That's one problem Scotty Bowman doesn't have to deal with," Ruicci joked.

The next home game for the Polar Bears will be 7 p.m., Jan. 10.

Non-alcohol punch provides pizzazz

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

The team from the Belleville Chamber of Commerce snatched victory from the jaws of disaster on Thursday night when their Strawberry Punch earned top honors.

On the day of the event, Chesley Odom -- who had planned to make the punch -- discovered he had a prior commitment, and called fellow chamber member Christine Bentley to fill in for him. She and Jane Kovach whipped up his recipe for Strawberry Punch and earned top honors at the 3rd Annual Non-Alcohol Cocktail Party, sponsored by the Tri-Community Substance Abuse Task Force.

"For the past two years, I've submitted recipes with fresh fruit juices, but I noticed that the recipes with sherberts received the most votes," said Odom. "So, this year, I submitted a recipe that included strawberry sherbert and passed it along to Christine and Jane when I was unable to participate."

Each year, the SATF sponsors a non-alcohol party as a fund-raiser for its anti-drug and anti-gang programs and also to draw attention to their "don't drink and drive" campaign.

"Each year we have guests comment on how delicious the punch drinks are, and many of them plan to include a non-alcohol punch along with other beverages at their holiday parties," said SATF President Mark Perkins. "We appreciate the entries submitted by the Chamber of Commerce, the Women of the Moose, Van Buren Estates, View, Central Business Community, Carousel Co-Op Nursery, Huron Valley Conservation Association, the Van Buren DARE program and the Van Buren Public Schools."

Perkins noted that dulcimer player Charlene Helen Berry entertained the guests at the party with holiday tunes and old-fashioned melodies. As a supporter of the SATF programs, Berry donated her talents to the event, he said.

Admission to the event was $5 and allowed each guest one vote for their favorite punch.

Recipes for the punches are listed below:

BACC Strawberry Punch
2 liter bottles Faygo red pop
8 oz. frozen strawberries
1 quart strawberry sherbet
Whipped cream

Van Buren Public Schools
Holiday Sherbet Party Punch
1 can (1 quart, 14 oz.) orange-grapefruit juice, chilled
1 can (1 quart, 14 oz.) pineapple juice, chilled
1 can (12 oz) apricot nectar, chilled
1/4 cup sugar
1 quart ginger ale, chilled
Combine orange-grapefruit juice, pineapple juice, apricot nectar and sugar into a punch bowl, add ginger ale. Unmold sherbet ring into punch. Makes 1 gallon.

Sherbet Ring
1 pint lemon sherbet
1 pint lime sherbet
Alternate scoops of lemon and lime sherbet into a 4-1/2-cup ring mold. Pack lightly, freeze until firm. To unmold, dip mold into warm water just to the rim a few seconds, then invert onto a flat plate and slide into punch bowl.

Holi-DARE Punch
16 oz. Vernors
16 oz. Seven-Up
16 oz. Dole pineapple-banana-orange juice
8 oz. Raspberry daiquiri mix (no alcohol)
12 oz. Frozen red raspberries
1 quart orange sherbet
Mix Vernors, Seven-Up, juice and daiquiri mix. Gradually add frozen raspberries and orange sherbet. Stir until well mixed.
Submitted by Van Buren Township Police Department DARE

Carousel Co-Op
Nursery Raspberry
Lemonade Punch
1 can Minute Maid Raspberry Lemonade
3 cans sparkling water
Mix and garnish with lemon slices and raspberries. Serve chilled.

By KIMBERLY WOLOSKE
MCN Staff Writer

He shoots, everybody scores.
The nervous anticipation surrounding the arrival of one of hockey's greatest legends was quickly forgotten as Gordie and Colleen Howe made their way through the halls of John Glenn High School Dec. 2.

All eyes were focused on the Howes who chose the Westland high school as the site for their national launch of and Howe!, the first authorized autobiography accounting the unparalleled career of Michigan's greatest hockey player. The Howes are hoping the book signing serves as a catalyst for other service clubs, schools and organizations who want the opportunity to enhance the learning environment through a successful fund raiser.

"Gordie and I are overwhelmed with the success of your fund raiser," said Colleen. "It proves that if you set your mind to something and capture an idea, you can make anything happen."

According to organizer Dell Reddy, the event gathered $17,000 for the high school through the sale of more than 1,000 books.

"This is an unprecedented event for the publishing industry as a prototype for school and public service fund raisers across the country," said Reddy. "I can't emphasize enough the benefits that will come out of the book signing not only for the school, but for the students and the community."

The Howes said their desire to launch the book through this venue came after they realized not enough people were doing things for the young people of this country.

"This is an idea whose time has come," said Colleen Howe.

The couple said future books are in the works including an account of sons Mark and Marty's adventures with their father, on and off the ice. Each promise their next book launch will be Michigan based after the reception they received in Westland.

The Howes behind the scenes work with charities and youth groups impressed Reddy who will now organize similar events in the United States and Canada. "This site was a pilot for future fund raisers," said Reddy, "and I believe it proved to be a fabulous benefit and a wonderful opportunity for the school and the city."

A private reception before the book signing allowed the couple to spend some private time with school administrators and the top sellers of their books including, John Glenn student Brian Huber.

The Westland sophomore sold 14 autobiographies to his friends and family in hopes of meeting Howe.

For one Westland family, meeting Gordie Howe was a dream come true. According to Karen German, her husband and son, Gordon Howard German Sr. and Gordon Howard German Jr., were both named after the former Red Wing player.

"My father-in-law played on the Detroit Police League hockey team against Howe when he was a Red Wing," said German, "and my husband played against Murray Howe when he was a Jr. Red Wing so it was only natural we name our son Gordon Howard."

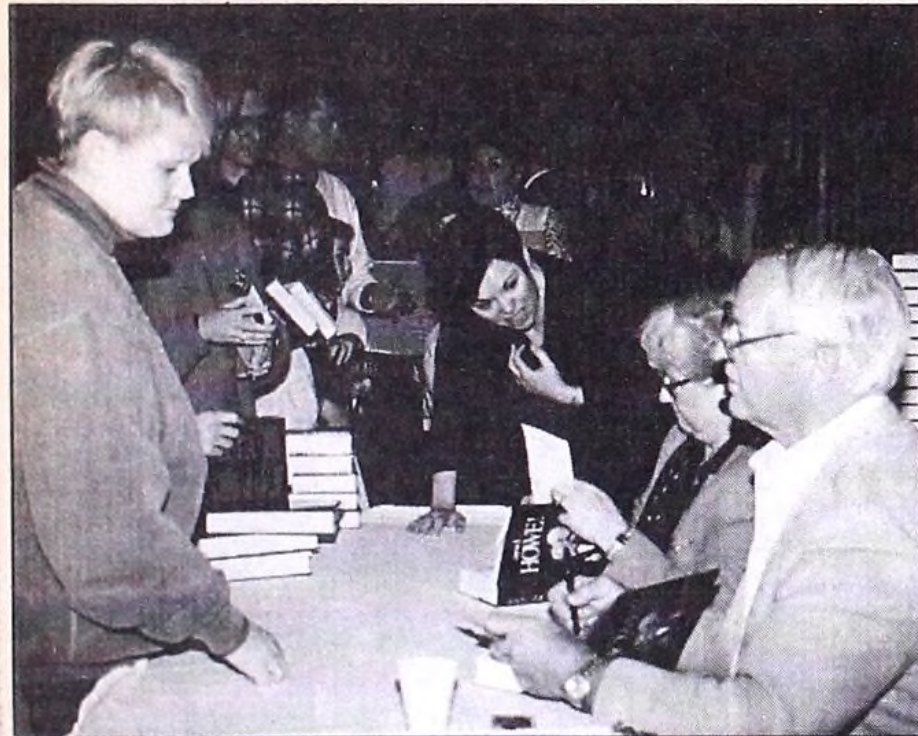

The German's anxiously awaited a meeting with Howe who spoke to Gordie, 5 and Kyla, 6, both avid hockey fans like their father.

"It has always been my dream to have the three Gordies photographed together," said German. "I can't believe we got the opportunity to make

Book tells secrets of winning at everything

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

If you want the ultimate gift for someone who is obsessed with beating the competition -- in games, sports or business -- pick up a copy of Dan Bensimhon's How to Win at Everything.

The Bantam book, which sells at $10.95, truly lives up to its name. Bensimhon has rounded up a group of experts who share the secrets of their success in a variety of situations. Bob Vila, host of the television show, Home Again and the author of several home improvement books, lists how to make a structural inspection; Ed Perkins, editor of Consumer Reports Travel Letter tells how to get good airline fares, and former Internal Revenue Service agent Boyd Thomas shares tips on how to beat a tax audit.

The book also provide trips from masters in their respective fields on bass fishing, bowling, running, cycling, racquetball, golf and arm wrestling.

In a section on shooting pool, champion player Allen

Hopkins advises pool shooters to "stay down."

"Popping your head and torso up before you finish your follow-through is the surest way to mis-hit," said Hopkins, who also advises pool players to chalk after every shot.

"A fresh layer of chalk on the cue tip will keep it from slipping when it hits the ball. For advanced players, the chalk also provides the friction necessary to generate 'English,'" said Hopkins.

Gary Peters, the first person inducted into the Monopoly Hall of Fame offers this tip, among several, "buy everything."

Mario Cuomo, former governor of New York, offers these tips on presenting a good speech, "don't read, have one clear message, and know your audience." He also offers 10 more tips to make yourself a winner on the speaker's podium.

Such practical tips as those on how to talk your way out of a speeding ticket to how to win at Nintendo are also featured in the book. In addition, Peter Lynch tells how to play the stock market, Curtis Sliwa gives tips on self-defense and William Ury tells how to get a raise -- worth the price of the book and more if it works.

The advice is practical and comes "from the mouths of the experts" so the tips and advice it provides should satisfy those who hate to come in second, and should give a boost to the average reader who wants to excel.

Cleanup needed in campaigns

The House Democratic Task Force on Campaign Finance Reform and Ethics recently concluded nearly 10 months of research and public testimony by announcing several initiatives to clean up the way political campaigns are financed and conducted in Michigan.

"The people of Michigan have testified before the task force they do not condone a political system that places special interests ahead of the public interest and politics before people," said State Rep. Tom Kelly (D-Wayne) who is also a member of the task force.

State Rep. Pat Gagliardi (D-Drummond Island), who is chair of the task force, said what is being proposed is "what the citizens of Michigan have asked for, meaningful reform of a political system that has made the public more cynical of government today than it was after Watergate."

The task force issued a report which included several recommendations including:

- Clean up campaign financing by limiting independent or "soft money" expenditures on behalf of a political candidate from an outside source to the maximum contribution level allowed for an individual campaign contributor.
- Improve reporting requirements to require notification of the candidate when an expenditure is made on his/her behalf.
- Prohibit the delivery of campaign contributions from lobbyists in state buildings or wherever legislative activity is taking place.
- Enact a Code of Ethics for legislators in statute. Establish an Ethics Commission made up of legislators and private citizens to review complaints against legislators.
- Enact into law the Clean Campaign Act and Financial Disclosure Laws passed by the House in 1994.

Kelly, who was present at the news conference which took place in the State Capitol announcing the task force's findings and recommendations, used the opportunity (along with his colleagues on the task force) to criticize a Republican campaign finance reform proposal to be considered by the House Oversight and Ethics Committee Nov. 28.

The plan, House Bill 5410, creates political action committees of the House and Senate political party caucuses controlled by the House and Senate leadership.

These "Super PACs" would be allowed to give unlimited financial support to legislative candidates.

"This legislation would put more money and power in the hands of Lansing politicians than any other time in Michigan history," said Kelly. "Legislators would be coming here owing political party leaders and giant special interest groups favors because of the money they received from the Super PACs."

Kelly was also critical of the speed with which the Republicans are moving their proposal through the House.

"This is an example of what our chairman calls their 'hit-and-run' legislating," said Kelly. "They introduced a bill during the legislative recess, rammed it through the committee without public testimony, reported it out to the floor for a vote the first day of session after the recess."

it happen, this will be my Christmas gift."

Fans of the Howes waited in line for several hours for the chance to meet the couple and have them autograph their book.

Some Westland notables spotted in the line included: Westland Mayor Robert J. Thomas, Deputy Mayor George Gilles, John Glenn Principal Neil Thomas, Superintendent

Duane Moore, Assistant Superintendent Greg Baracy, Trustee Martha Pitsenbarger, John Glenn Track Coach Jess Shough, Edison Elementary Principal Larry Wood, Executive Director Student Services Gary Quitiquit and John Glenn Assistant Principal Lynn Gregg.

The visit of the Red Wing legend will be remembered by the John Glenn students, staff and Howe admirers for years to come. Candid photographs and private conversations will become cherished memories long after the book signings and private receptions are over. Most importantly, the students of the district will reap the benefits of the unselfish event through the purchase of new equipment and school materials with the funds gathered.

"I don't think they had any idea of the success they would have with a visit of this nature," said Jay Keller of Laser Graphics in Dearborn Heights. Keller's business reproduced an acrylic replica of the and...Howe! book cover as a gift for the Howes.

"It will mean a great deal to the school and the community for a long, long time."

Volunteers, donations needed for Toys for Tots organization

Editor's note: This article was submitted by Gunny Little-U.S. Marines.

In their sentiment that every child deserves a Christmas toy, the U.S. Marine Corps "Toys for Tots" within the last 48 years has enabled millions of fortuneless families to provide their children with brand new gifts and some Christmas joy during that magical holiday season.

In 1947 the late colonel Bill Hendricks and his wife wanted to give a needy child a toy for Christmas.

While Mrs. Hendricks made a wonderful doll to give, her husband searched, but to no avail, for an agency organized for this purpose.

With the help of the Marines in his command, he set about collecting toys.

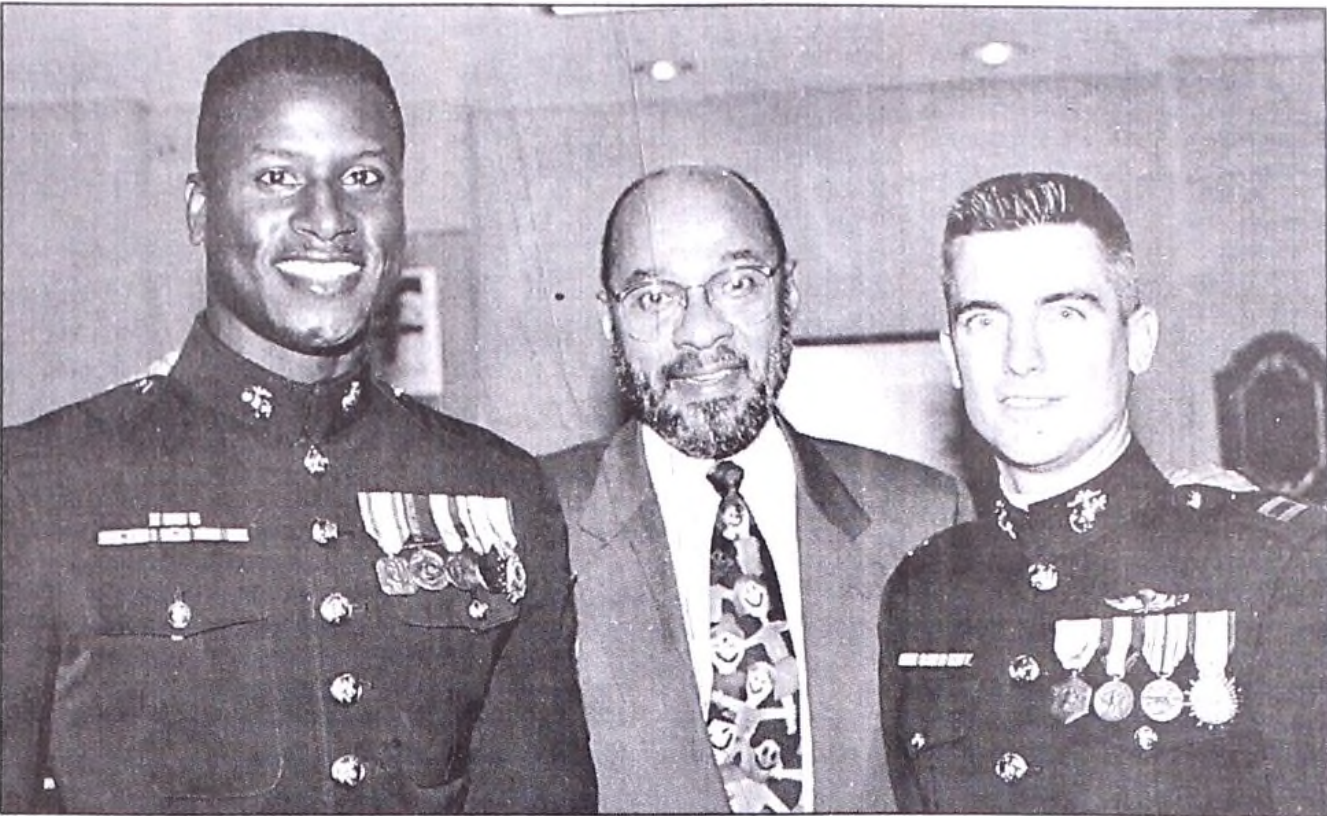

Since that first year in which only 5,000 toys were gathered, Toys for Tots has grown into one of the most successful nationwide Christmas charities, having helped an estimated 100 million children.

Col. Hendricks was able to attract assistance gladly rendered by such celebrities as John Wayne, Bob Hope, Charlton Heston and Sammy Davis Jr. to name a few and, more recently, Mayor Dennis Archer, Police Chief Isaiah McKinnon and Detroit's own Tim Allen of the hit television series Home Improvement.

The colonel asked his friend Walt Disney for help in designing a logo for the campaign. Not only did Disney design the now famous Toys for Tots train logo, he personally supervised the creation of the first poster as well.

In subsequent years, these posters featured Disney characters such as Mickey Mouse, Bugs Bunny and Donald Duck. Poster designs have come from quite a few sources as well as our own Marine Corps artists.

In southeast Michigan Toys for Tots will always mean local toys for local children which in 1994 equated to more than 105,000 toys collected and distributed here.

However, the program has gone international at times following catastrophic events, toys were sent to Nagoya, Japan in 1959, the Republic of Panama in 1988 and to the Caribbean in 1989.

Thanksgiving Day marked the kickoff of the 1995 campaign which is now in full swing, however, the children who will benefit from Toys for Tots are greatly in need of more support for their program from major corporations and local businesses.

These businesses are normally able to provide much larger contributions than the individual. In the past, sizable donations have been attractive tax advantages for companies. Toys for Tots of southeast Michigan is a registered 501C3 organization.

Also assistance comes from newspapers, radio and television. Media is the most effective way to inform the public of where each individual can go or what they can do to help.

While the Marines are the nucleus of the program, the communities are really the ones who cause it to materialize.

When you choose the toys you'll donate this year, make it easy. Close your eyes and allow yourself to revisit the intensity of all the feelings you experienced as a child.

Seeing that shiny new bicycle in Sears, the game those kids on television were having so much fun at, or any other toy you ached for.

Remember the excitement, the momentary exhilaration of grabbing those handlebars and saying "vrooom vrooom srrrr" or picking up that game and reading the back of the box to see how many could play and how many pieces it came with.

Then, the extreme disappointment arrives when the shock of "come on, let's go," echoed in your head as you turned to look into the face of your mom or dad at the end of the aisle.

You simultaneously slid back again this Christmas. If you've never experienced anything similar, that's great. Be thankful, but the sad fact is that so many children right here in our communities do.

Our goal is to give them the same joy and excitement that all children should feel during such an enchanted time of year.

Just pick something you think a child might pick if it were the only thing they could have this Christmas.

To find out how you can volunteer or where you can donate, call Toys for Tots at 1-800-4TOTS-95 from outside Detroit or 824-8401/8402 from the 313 area code.

You can even bring your brand new unwrapped toys and meet the Marines at the Redwings bring-a-toy game Dec. 15 at Joe Louis Arena.

The Auto Finance Center offers both a credit establishment program geared to the 1st time or entry buyer who may have previously been turned down at other dealers or approved only with a co-signer. Also offered are re-establishment programs for those people rejected by previous bad credit or bankruptcy. We also have financing for self employed, retirees and SSI. Service contracts are also available. Those people who are tired of hearing NO. Call Lisa at (313) 482-1222 and hear a YES!!

Happy birthday

Area residents celebrate special days with the stars

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

Of course, the most celebrated day in December is the 25th, Christmas Day, but the month also includes other not-so-special days.

Dec. 6 is the traditional St. Nicholas Day in many European countries; Dec. 10 is Human Rights Day; Dec. 13 is St. Lucia Day in Sweden and Swedish communities in the U.S.; Dec. 15 is Bill of Rights Day, and Dec. 15 also has been designated as Underdog Day to honor unsung heroes like Sherlock Holmes' Dr. Watson and Robinson Crusoe's Friday.

Christmas birthdays are celebrated by Peter Kress of Van Buren Township and actress Sissy Spacek. Actor Humphrey Bogart also was born on Dec. 25.

Celebrating their birthdays on Dec. 1 are actress Mary Martin and comedian-writer Woody Allen. On Dec. 2, actress Julie Harris observes her birthday. Canton resident Joe Laderach celebrates his birthday on Dec. 3, and on Dec. 4, actor Jeff Bridges celebrates his birthday.

Other December birthdays are Walt Disney, Dec. 5; Ira Gershwin and "Baby Face" Nelson share their birthday, Dec. 6, with Westland resident Kevin McGrath; actress Ellen Burstyn and basketball player Larry Bird, Dec. 7; actor/comedian Sammy Davis Jr. and singer Jim Morrison, Dec. 8; actors Kirk Douglas and Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Dec. 9; Westland resident Marcella McGrath shares her birthday with actresses Rita Moreno and Terri Garr, Dec. 11; singer Frank Sinatra and Bob Baker, Dec. 12; comedian Dick Van Dyke and actor Christopher Plummer,

ANGER IS NATURAL, BUT DEALING WITH IT MAY TAKE HELP

by Tae Park, M.D.

Enjoying

Anger is a normal emotion — when we feel we are not being treated fairly, for example, it is natural to become angry. Since anger can cause strong feelings, however, it is important to learn to acknowledge this emotion and deal with it in constructive, nonviolent ways.

Displaced anger can cause problems later

Most people react swiftly when they feel the treatment they are receiving is not justified. This is natural anger.

Others displace their anger — they don't want to show that they're angry and so they don't react to the person or situation that's upsetting them. Instead, they direct their anger toward some other event or person, one that has nothing to do with the real cause of their anger. These people need counseling to learn how to express their anger appropriately.

Pathological anger is held inside and builds up over a long time. People who experience this type of anger may be reacting to difficult childhood situations or other long-term problems. Often they are unaware that they're angry until something, usually an unrelated event, triggers their anger.

Pent-up anger can also cause people to suffer from depression. These people also need counseling to help them understand the true cause of their anger.

Coping techniques

Babies cry when they are angry. Some adults, especially women, cry as a way of finding relief. Others, usually men, release their anger by participating in vigorous competitive sports. All these are appropriate ways of coping with anger.

There are other ways to handle anger and avoid violent outbursts. Taking a deep breath and counting to 10 before reacting helps; so does taking a short walk or leaving the room to get away from the cause of the anger long enough to calm down. Talking about angry feelings also is a good way to relieve the anger. Stress management techniques such as regular exercise and participation in interesting hobbies also help people stay calm.

Anger is a natural feeling but one that must be controlled. It should be expressed appropriately and not be allowed to take the form of destructive behavior.

Nissan 200SX affordable sports car with all amenities

By JUSTIN WILOCX
MCN Automotive Writer

The all-new Nissan 200SX sports coupe is poised and ready to redefine today's definition of an "affordable sports car" - much the same way the original 240Z did almost 25 years ago.

Yet times change, as do the wants and needs of the sporty-car buyer. The all new 1995 200SX sets a new standard by combining the key ingredients most expect in a sports car - aggressive aerodynamic styling, crisp acceleration and responsive handling - with unexpected qualities as sedan-like comfort and convenience, and exceptional fuel efficiency.

Three distinct models are available - the budget minded 200SX, the sporty 200SX SE and the high performance 200SX SE-R. Both the 200SX and 200SX SE models are equipped with refined 1.6-liter DOHC four cylinder engine, while the 200SX SE-R features a more powerful 2.0 liter DOHC four-cylinder engine.

All 200SX models feature Nissan's innovative new rear Multi-Link Beam suspension (similar to that found on the new 1995 Maxima), a long wheelbase and large interior, and comprehensive list of safety features including dual airbags.

Like the 1995 Maxima, the 200SX utilizes Nissan's "rational packaging" approach. By adapting the highly space efficient rear Multi-Link Beam suspension, the designers were able to employ a long

All 200SX models feature Nissan's innovative new rear Multi-Link Beam suspension.

99.8-inch wheelbase, while keeping the overall length to 170 inches.

The result is a much more spacious and comfortable interior, especially in the rear seat area. Unlike most sports coupes, the 200SX features a usable rear seat, with space to comfortably fit two six-foot adults. And with its split fold-down seatbacks, the rear seat also allows flexible storage capacity.

The 200SX SE-R that I was fortunate enough to test came equipped with the 2.0 liter DOHC 16-valve engine rated at 140 horsepower and 132 ft.-lbs. of torque. Amazingly, woven with all of this muscle this car still manages to maintain nearly 40 MPG on the highway and nearly 30 MPG in the city.

If you are looking for a micro-rocket to put in your garage without giving up space and comfort then you should take a look at this little gem. The only thing that you have to lose is $15,000. A competitive price for a very competitive car.

Secretary Miller opposes speed limit increase

Secretary of State Candice Miller said that while she believes states should have the right to establish speed limits on interstate and other freeways without fear of retribution by the federal government, she does not support a wholesale increase in speed limits in Michigan.

Miller, who chairs the Michigan State Safety Commission, made her remarks following President Bill Clinton's approval of the National Highway Designation Act. That new law abolishes federal control of speed limits, which were first imposed as a fuel-saving measure in 1974.

"This speaks more about states' rights than it does about speed limits," Miller said. "Michigan and other states should have the right to decide issues like the speed limit without fear of retribution, such as losing some type of related federal funding."

However, Miller said that while Michigan now has the right to raise speed limits it does not necessarily make good sense to do so.

"There are areas where an increase in the speed limit would be acceptable, such as on urban freeways like I-696 between I-96 and the John Lodge Freeway in the Detroit area," Miller said. "However, a wholesale increase in speed limits would not be prudent."

"The higher the travel speed, the greater the risk of serious injury or death in a crash," she said. "Higher speeds also reduce the ability of vehicle restraint systems to protect vehicle occupants."

Miller said she is confident the Department of Transportation, in consultation with the Michigan State Police, will exercise excellent judgment in determining where speed limits should be increased.

Miller was elected earlier this year to serve as chair of the State Safety Commission, which was legislatively established in 1941 to promote traffic safety in Michigan. Its members include the departments of State, State Police, Transportation, Education and Public Health.

State should retain limit

Since Congress has passed legislation to abolish the 55-mph maximum speed limit on many highways, most states are expected to put the pedal to the metal and boost the limit.

Not so fast, said AAA Michigan.

The Auto Club agrees that states should be granted the flexibility to increase speed limits on interstate highways (or even lower them, if necessary) but opposes increasing the 65 speed limit now in place on rural interstates in Michigan.

"The states should have this flexibility because local and state road authorities and law enforcement agencies know the design characteristics and the crash experience on our roads better than the federal government," said Jerry Basch, AAA Michigan Community Safety Services manager.

Regardless, Basch said, the speed limit in Michigan should not exceed the present 65 mph because the risk or serious crashes becomes too great.

AAA Michigan anticipates that freeways which will be reviewed for possible posted speed limit increases include I-696 and I-275 in the metro Detroit area; I-96, I-196 and US-131 in the Grand Rapids area, I-75, I-69, and I-475 in the Flint area and I-94 in the Benton Harbor area.

Hospital official named

Pamela Savage-Marr, senior health educator for the Department of Community Health at Oakwood Hospital and Medical Center-Dearborn (OHMC), was recently selected to be a national media spokesperson for the American Dietetic Association (ADA), the nation's largest organization of food and nutrition specialists.

Savage-Marr was chosen as one of 27 ADA media spokespersons nationwide. Her goal is to communicate the importance of sound nutrition to the public on behalf of the 66,500-member association. She will also communicate many of ADA's campaigns and initiatives, such as the health and cost-saving benefits of including medical nutrition services in health care reform and ADA's Child Nutrition and Health Campaign.

"My primary goal as an ADA spokesperson is to help consumers sift through the seemingly never-ending onslaught of nutrition information and research," said Savage-Marr.

At OHMC, she coordinates nutrition and health education programs for corporate and community settings and oversees a worksite wellness program for 3,500 hospital employees.

Tips offered for surviving holiday 'eat-a-thons'

At the office, boxes of holiday cookies and candy invite you to help yourself...at home, you have a shelf full of baked goods from friends and relatives...party buffets abound with sweets and high-fat treats...and your mother expects you to eat every bite of those creamed onions she made especially for you.

Feel like you've lost the battle against holiday fat and calories before you've taken the first bite? Here are a few tips from the American Institute for Cancer Research to help you eat sensibly and keep your weight under control while still enjoying some of your favorite holiday treats.

First, remember to communicate, said Melanie Polk, director of Nutrition Education for the AICR.

"If you're visiting a relative or friend who usually pressures you to eat a lot, tell them before they do any meal planning that you don't want to go overboard this year. Compromise by just eating a few bites of your favorite high-fat dishes while you fill up on lots of whole grains, fruits and vegetables prepared without much fat."

Many people who cook for the holidays have an idealized vision of a table laden with high-fat, rich foods. But in reality, Dad needs to watch his cholesterol, Mom needs to keep her arthritis in check by watching her weight, and the kids need nutritious meals to balance out the richer foods they're eating more of during the holidays.

Polk suggests adjusting traditional recipes by leaving a good part of the fat out.

"Your meal will taste just as good and most people won't notice the difference," she said. "Omit the fat from stuffing, use less in some baked goods, de-fat gravy by cooling pan drippings until you can skim the fat off the top or buy one of those inexpensive gravy de-fatters available in kitchen stores. You can also flavor things with bullion, fruit juices and herbs."

Some other ways to survive the holiday eat-a-thon, Polk said, include:

- Eating slowly and savoring each bite so that you are satisfied with more moderate portions. "When it comes to a chocolate torte or a cream sauce, the tenth bite rarely tastes as good as the first," Polk said.
- Before you go to a party where you know there will be high-calorie foods, have a low-calorie snack like fruit and low-fat crackers or half a sandwich beforehand so you don't arrive at the party hungry. When you get there, survey your options ahead of time. At a buffet, look things over and choose moderate portions of what you really want to taste rather than loading your plate with everything.
- Get some exercise before or after a holiday meal by taking a walk or tossing a football in the back yard.
- Fill up on lower-fat items like bread, rolls, bread sticks, crackers, and raw veggies. In addition to helping you moderate portions of high-fat foods, drinking low-calorie beverages like tomato juice or club soda with lime can also help you minimize the calories that add up from drinking alcoholic beverages.

- Plan ahead and make a few trade-offs, like deciding you'll have a couple of cookies at work instead of eating a high-calorie dessert at dinner that night.
- If you're going to a holiday party or dinner party, offer to bring something, and make it a low-fat dish and/or a non-alcoholic drink.

Finally, Polk said, "Keep holiday foods in perspective by viewing them as special treats to eat in moderation rather than the only foods you'll eat between Thanksgiving and New Year's Day. Several special dinners or celebrations can be balanced with other meals that are low-fat and reasonably low in calories."

Child-proof home safety tips provided

If your're hosting young children over the holidays, make sure you first child-proof your home. Many traditional holiday decorations, such as mistletoe, can prove deadly for kids.

Double-check this safety list before you deck the halls: don't leave bowls of nuts or hard candy out as children can choke on them; clean up any half-empty drinks since just two or three drinks can be dangerous; make sure trees are secure so they cannot top over; never leave kids unattended.

Financially Speaking, "It's Survival of the Fittest."
